THE DECATUR DAILY REVIEW

FORTY-FOURTH YEAR—NO. 108. DECATUR, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 18, 1923. 16 PAGES—PRICE THREE CENTS

Ku Klux Klan Target Of State Representatives

Pass Bill, 107 to 3, Forbidding Masked Figures From Appearing in Public Places.

Springfield, April 18— Appearance in public places of any person masked, robed or hooded to conceal identity is prohibited in the Roberts bill passed by the house of representatives today; 107 to three.

There was no debate on the bill. Representative Roberts, Republican, Chicago, delivered a long speech in its behalf, declaring "we must destroy the Ku Klux Klan or it will destroy us."

EXPRESS THEIR VOTES.

Explaining their votes, some members said they did not agree with some of Mr. Roberts' remarks but were in favor of the bill.

Votes against the measure were cast by Representatives Bandy, Republican, Marion; Bashell, Republican, Melvin, and Bruer, Republican, Pontiac.

Representative Francis, Republican Woodstock, voted "present."

LIFE THREATENED.

Representative Roberts said his life had been threatened a day after he introduced the bill. He received a letter, he said, written on the stationery of the Savoy Hotel, Danville, Ill., saying two gun-men had been hired to kill him, and that if they failed, a servant on a Pullman diner would put poison in his coffee.

BLUE SUNDAY BILL.

Representative Hart, Republican, Aurora, introduced a bill today to repeal sections 259, 260, 261, and 262 of the criminal code. These sections which have not been enforced for years, if ever, prohibit all Sunday amusements and all unnecessary Sunday labor. The bill is a counter-move against the MacMurray bill against Sunday amusements introduced last week in the senate.

The senate passed the Jewell aeronautics bill regulating aircraft flying, 39 to 0, and sent it to the house.

CO-OP BILL.

Springfield, Ill., April 18—Farmers of the state again turned their eyes to the state house today, and several delegations representing them were in the city to be present at the house agriculture committee's open hearing on the senate cooperative marketing bill this afternoon.

Representatives of Dairying associations in the Fox river valley were numbered among the bill's supporters.

Political observers see rough sailing for the "co-op" measure once it is reported out of committee. They predict it cannot pass the lower branch of the legislature essentially unchanged, as it did in the senate, where the "farm bloc" pushed it along. It is expected a stiff fight will be waged to add an amendment allowing members of cooperative societies to withdraw after one year. This proposed change lost in the upper house.

IMPORTANT HEARINGS.

Other important hearings are to take place tonight. They are the house judiciary committee's consideration of all pending liquor measures, the final hearing of representative Johnson's severance tax bill by the house revenue committee and the disposal of the Flagg income tax bill by the same committee.

Prohibition leaders are confident the judiciary committee will kill all the "wet" bills tonight without taking up time with another session.

Whether the Herrin investigating committee of the house will call witnesses for tomorrow, and go to Herrin Friday, remains to be decided at a meeting this afternoon. Since a house session is possible Friday, the matter of an investigation in Herrin that day is doubtful.

Senator Dunlap, Republican, Savoy, said today he had received pledges of support for his state police bill from 53 county farm bureaus.

SIDETRACK O'NEILL BILL.

Vote on passage of the O'Neill women's eight hour day bill will not come in the house until next week, Mrs. O'Neill is anxious for action on the measure but the house has so many important committee meetings today that house leaders do not want to extend the session with long debates. Tomorrow a short session is in prospect, and also Friday if the representatives meet on that day.

SEEKS DRY LAW CHANGE.

Senator Dailey, Republican, Peoria, introduced a bill providing for an automatic change in the state prohibition act, when, and if, the national law is modified. He offered the bill, he said, at request of Chicago, "modificationists."

Senator Dailey also presented his fair trade law, to prevent combinations in restraint of trade.

SENATE GETS SMALL'S BILL

$100,000,000 Road Bond Issue Proposal Presented by Senator Meents.

[By The Associated Press.]

Springfield, April 18.—Senator Meents, Republican, Askum, today introduced in the senate Governor Small's proposal for a $100,000,000 road bond issue for a second statewide system of hard roads.

The bill is drawn along the same general lines as the $60,000,000 road bond issue voted in 1918. It is to be submitted to a vote of the people at the 1924 general election and must receive a majority of votes cast for members of the general assembly at that time.

119 NEW ROUTES.

New road routes numbering 119 are proposed in today's bill. It provides for the completion of that portion of the $60,000,000 issue uncompleted due to lack of funds at the time the law became effective, which probably will be about one thousand miles, and in addition between 3,500 and 4,000 miles of trunk line roads, which, when both systems are completed, will give Illinois 8,000 miles of hard-surfaced roads.

The bill provides that all work is to be completed within five years after the first construction contracts are awarded.

HARD-SURFACED TYPES.

The roads are to be of the hard-surfaced type and shall be not less than ten feet and not more than twenty feet wide, except in extreme cases.

Three and a half per cent interest is to be paid by the bonds, except in case unusual financial conditions necessitate four per cent. The bonds, which are to be serial, are to run for not more than thirty years.

Washington, April 18—As a part of its inquiry into efficiency and economy of railroad management, the interstate commerce commission ordered the fifty-one largest railroads to furnish under oath responses to a questionnaire covering labor conditions in their maintenance departments and the general situation in regard to fitness of their equipment.

The companies were given until May 25 to reply.

Each railroad was asked for data as to how the strike of shopmen had affected it, and whether any settlement had been made with the employes as a body. Other sections of the questionnaire were designed to cover the amount of traffic handled, the number of locomotives and railroad cars in use and the records of their service, ability, including locomotive and car break downs.

HOLD CAVE IN FACE OF ARMY

Irish Free Staters Surround Band of Republicans.

[By The Associated Press]

London, April 18 — Hidden in a cave one hundred feet from the top of a cliff rising perpendicularly from the coast line near the causeway north of Kerry, a desperate band of Irish republicans has been holding out against the Free State troops since Monday in one of the most spectacular fights of the government's struggle with the irregulars, according to a dispatch to the Evening Star, from Dublin today.

QUESTION OF FOOD.

Although the republicans do not seem to have a chance to escape they are able as yet to guard effectively the precipitous approach to the cave, a narrow path from the top of the cliff, down which even the venturesome Kerry goat has not the temerity to descend. It seems improbable therefore, that the irregulars will be routed out so long as their food and water lasts. A yawning chasm beneath the mouth of the cave awaits the intruder who makes a false step in descending the path.

The body of one Free State soldier has been buffeted by the waves at the bottom of a chasm since the government's first attempt to dislodge the irregulars on Monday.

TURKS MUTILATE DOUGHBOY'S BODY

U. S. Confirms Report of Outrage.

Washington, D. C., April 18—State department agents designated to investigate charges that Turkish soldiers had mutilated the body and destroyed the coffin of George Dilboy, an American soldier to whom a congressional medal of honor was awarded after he met his death in the world war, have confirmed them. In a preliminary report the agents said "those responsible were apparently actuated by cupidity rather than by malice."

Dilboy was of Greek extraction. He was killed in action near Belleau. At the request of his parents, whose home was in Alachata, near Smyrna, the body was sent there for burial.

The report showed that the coffin had been placed in the Orthodox Greek church at Alachata, pending interment. The town was taken by Turkish soldiers during their advance on Smyrna last September. The state department has demanded a disavowal from the Angora government.

CARDINAL MERCIER ATTACKS SOVIET

Says Russians Are Menace to Civilization.

New York, April 18.—A world-wide move against the Russian soviets in order to save civilization is suggested by Cardinal Mercier, heroic primate of Belgium during the war, in an article he has contributed to the forthcoming issue of Columbia, official organ of the Knights of Columbus. The cardinal is a member of the organization, having been initiated on his tour of this country.

"In four years," he writes, "the World war mowed down, I believe, 10,000,000 of human lives. In a little more than that time bolshevist socialism has sacrificed from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000.

WARNS OF "REALITY."

"It is not for me to suggest the means whereby the Red bands shall be disarmed and the legion of honor recruited which shall undertake the magnificent task of pacifying Russia, and I surmise that if such a bold suggestion should reach the ears of the civil and military heads some of them would find it inopportune or unstrategic."

Chief of Police James J. Nedley stopped the dancers after he had watched them for about twenty minutes.

Chief Nedley said the dancers came to East Port Chester on their own hook and asked no one's permission to stage the dance.

The dancers philosophically accepted the chief's orders and stopped.

WITNESS TESTIFIES.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 18.—Witnesses for the Putnam Lumber company were scheduled to testify today before the joint legislative committee investigating the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota. It was in the company's private convict camp near Clara, Fla., where Tabert, it is alleged, died as the result of brutal floggings. Walter Higginbotham, former whipping boss of the camp, is under indictment for first degree murder in connection with the case.

A. B. Shivers, former guard at the Putnam camp, yesterday gave a detailed account of the alleged beating of Tabert. His testimony was along lines similar to statements made by witnesses at the grand jury hearing in Madison, where Higginbotham was indicted.

HELD SPELLBOUND.

A. B. Shivers, former convict guard at the Putnam camp held the committee spellbound as he related how prisoners were flogged by the "whipping boss." He declared the whipping was a daily occurrence and that from one to five men were whipped each day to the best of his knowledge. He was employed by the company for more than six months, he said.

Shivers was grilled into giving minor details and he named Walter Higginbotham, now under a first degree murder indictment as the "whipping boss' of the camp and who gave Tabert more than 100 licks, he said, with a heavy strap four days before the youth died.

PRISONER WEAK.

Tabert was whipped on a Friday night, Shivers testified. He said that morning they walked approximately two miles to the swamp. Tabert was unable to keep up and often during the march which was done at a rapid pace, he said, he would make the other prisoners stop and wait for the North Dakotan.

When they returned to the guard-house last night, Higginbotham, Shivers declared, lined up the prisoners and called Tabert out of line.

SCREAMED FOR MERCY.

"'Get down,' Higginbotham told Tabert," Shivers said. "The youth laid down on his stomach," declared the witness and Higginbotham pulled up his shirt. He gave him about thirty licks as Tabert groaned and screamed for mercy. Tabert kept on twitching his body, so Higginbotham placed the heel of his boot on the youth's neck to make him keep his body rigid. He then gave him about forty to fifty more licks."

"Higginbotham told Tabert to get up and the boy was a little slow about it, so Higginbotham said 'you can't work yet? eh' and pushed the boy down on the ground again. This time he gave him about 25 licks. He told Tabert to get up and when the boy straightened up, Higginbotham made a pass at him with the handle of the strap. He missed him and Tabert staggered around in a half circle with Higginbotham hitting him over the head and shoulders," declared Shivers. Tabert died the following Tuesday night, he said.

TRIBUNE WINS IN SUPREME COURT

[By The Associated Press]

Springfield, April 18—Affirming the decision of Circuit Judge Harry Fisher of Cook county, the supreme court today ruled that the city of Chicago cannot maintain its libel suit against the Chicago Tribune. The case was the first on record in which a municipality had attempted a libel suit. The newspaper was charged with having damaged the credit of the city through editorial criticism of its corporate acts.

RIGHT TO CRITICIZE.

"The opinion of this court is based," the supreme court decision said "on the fundamental principle of the American government, that every citizen has a right to criticize the government and its administrations so long as they do not advocate overthrow of the existing government or violation of the law.

"Liberty of the press," the decision continued, "is the same thing as freedom of speech."

SPRING TIME AND LAKE DECATUR

Green slopes dotted with adventurous dandelions, honey bees feasting on the sap of a bruised sapling, a woodpecker rattling on a bare trunk while a redbird darts to and fro underneath; swish of waves on sloping beach and the happy gabble of ducks feeding in the reeds—that's Lake Decatur today.

A warm sun is nursing the greening grass into almost perceptible growth and tipping the breeze whipped waves with silver. Spring is up the bank, along the shores and on the water and if you don't want to succumb to a desire to stretch out on a green bank and just forget such things as election and whether the little dab of coal in the basement is going to last, keep away from the lake.

Ransome Kennicott fell in love with Lake Decatur Tuesday and well he might. It's worth loving and feeling proud of. If you haven't met it you are missing something worth while. Besides, it's yours to enjoy. Go down and try it.

LAUNCHED BOAT STICKS IN MUD

"Ruth" Sends Rudder Into Mud Bottom.

There was no smashing of bottled goods over its bow or no cheering from admiring hundreds when the "Ruth," J. J. Kraiger's boat, that was so admired at the Boat Show, was launched Wednesday morning at the old Mafflt bridge. Instead, a little knot of people stood shivering in the brisk breeze and saw the craft on the Shellabarger trailer slide stern first into shallow water, saw the trusty trailer sink over its axles in Sangamon bottom mud, saw the dainty "Ruth" bury her rudder and propellor strut firmly in the aforementioned mud, saw her stay right there.

After much tugging, pulling and "figgering" Earle Roberts, Scout executive, who was on the scene, was dispatched to town for his hip boots, and the fun began again.

Advice to prospective boat launchers is to thoroughly sound the depths of not only the water, but the mud, before launching craft on Lake Decatur.

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Quick as Eggs

A dish that's almost ready

There's a Quick Quaker Oats at your store now.

Just like the Quaker you have always known—perfect in quality, exquisite in flavor.

But also the quickest cooking oats in the world.

No other brand cooks anywhere near so quickly.

The secret is this:

In Quick Quaker, the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

They are ready in 3 to 5 minutes—as soon as eggs.

In Quaker Oats—both styles—we flake the finest grains only. Just the rich, plump, flavory oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these extra-flavory flakes.

But think what they mean. That flavor has won the world to Quakers. From all the world over, lovers of oats send for this premier brand.

Millions of mothers serve them every morning, so children will love oats.

Now you have Quick Quaker, if you wish—a five-minute dish. Get that or the regular, but insist on this Quaker flavor for the children's sake.

KENNICOTT URGES FOREST PRESERVE

Says Decatur Has Wonderful Opportunity.

"Decatur must have a great deal more land about its lake if it is to realize the advantages that are possible," said Ransom Kennicott, chief forester of Cook county, in his talk before the Bird and Tree club Tuesday night.

"Private owners of properties are inclined to forbid use of their grounds by the public, and where sites are as advantageous as they are here there is a tendency for rich men to acquire large tracts and fence them off, putting an end to their enjoyment by the people."

TELLS OF COOK COUNTY.

Mr. Kennicott then told of the advantages of the forest preserves in Cook county and the value and uses of the vast areas of land included in the preserves. Up there they have twelve tourist camps that bring them thousands of visitors and an influx of money from the transients. City people save by taking their vacations in the preserves. Golf courses, boat livery and many other things provide recreational advantages for the city and also make the preserves self-supporting.

Mr. Kennicott was enthusiastic over the prospects for Decatur lake and asserted that the entire cost of forming a forest preserve about Lake Decatur could be covered by the income of a boat livery. "Decatur has a greater wealth of water around its preserve than Chicago. Hills, woods and waters are all that are necessary for a preserve that will give all of the recreational facilities."

CHANGING IDEAS.

He then spoke of the changing ideas of the state and federal governments regarding forest preservation. He told of the lumber situation in this and other states that had reached a point where Illinois was forced to go so far from home for lumber that the freight bill in lumber alone in the state for 1922 was $26,000,000 when in the state there was 5,000,000 acres of land that could be used profitably for growing lumber.

"There are numberless ways of meeting the maintenance cost of a preserve," he concluded. "A little nine-hole golf course brings us $20,000 annually and many other schemes make the project self-supporting."

PLEASED WITH DUCKS.

Mr. Kennicott was greatly pleased by the number of ducks and wild fowl that are being protected here and spoke of the increase in bird life made possible by protection. He told of the added protective possibilities for birds in a forest preserve and touched upon a warning note when he said that without bird life within ten years there would be no crops.

Facial Blemishes

Sallow, muddy, roughened or blotched complexions are usually due to constipation.

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness," and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouder brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

OBJECTORS TO ROAD FAIL THIRD TIME

Court Blocks Action On Route in Dewitt County.

Springfield, April 18.—The third attempt of James M. Greene and other residents of Wapella and Clinton to force the State Department of Public Works and Buildings to change its decision of route No. 2, Bloomington to Decatur, and make it coincide with the Meridian trail which runs through Wapella, failed today when the supreme court refused a petition for a writ of mandamus. The road runs about one-fourth mile away from Wapella.

How soon will there be an ARCOLA famine?

DO YOU KNOW that the great demand for heating equipment prevented 5,000 home-owners from getting ARCOLA in the Fall of 1921?

Yet this year three times as many homes are being built.

We can make no more ARCOLAS now than in 1921 because the factories are already filled with orders for larger Ideal Boilers.

Everything points to an unprecedented ARCOLA famine this Fall.

Please help us to avoid disappointing you. Ask your Heating Contractor to give you an estimate today. Ask him to explain just how ARCOLA fills every room with healthful radiator warmth and pays for itself in the fuel it saves.

Some Things To Be Remembered

In Buying Paints and Varnishes

There are just as many grades of paints as there are grades of cloth. In buying cloth you inspect it, feel it and if you are judge of this class material know whether it is a good piece of goods or not.

In buying paints and varnishes you must depend all together on the honesty of the manufacturer; his name on the can must guarantee the quality of the goods. It is just as easy for a dealer to say "this is the best paint made" about an inferior paint as it is about a high grade paint.

Buy your paints of firms who know paints. Insist on the label bearing the name of reputable manufacturing. It is your only protection. The few cents saved in buying cheap paints are always wasted. Due to poor covering capacity and the short life of the material.

We for years have made a specialty of HIGH GRADE PAINTS AND VARNISHES and distribute for Central Illinois the entire lines of the following manufacturers;

JOHN LUCAS & CO.
Paint and varnish made for over 60 years.

PRATT & LAMBERT
The largest varnish makers in the world.

NATIONAL LEAD CO.
Makers of the famous Dutch Boy White Lead.

BOSTON VARNISH CO.
Makers of the famous Kyanize line of varnish and specialties.

AMERICAN LINSEED OIL CO.
The largest crushers of oil in the world.

In making your selection of colors, etc., here you have the entire stocks of these factories to select from. Buy where they have the goods.

Prophets Have Great Time Opening Day

National League Gets Away To Great Start—Two Games Extra Innings.

BY JOHN B. FOSTER.

Copyright 1923.

New York, April 18—The first day in the National league season resulted in a sweeping victory for the prophets.

Let them roar while they can.

New York, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati won. Philadelphia and Brooklyn played a fourteen inning tie. Cincinnati had to go eleven innings to defeat St. Louis and Rickey stuck it out with only two pitchers, one of whom was Pfeffer.

There are other matters than defeat and victory which are interesting in this first real clash which is to settle the leadership in teams for another year.

WEAK AT SHORT.

For instance Osborne of the Cubs pitched a three hit game and his fellow club members couldn't win for him with a magnificent showing like that. Osborne really repeated the kind of pitching that he exhibited at times last year. If he is up to the mark of 1922 with the added skill of a year's experience, which should come to a good performer, the Cubs have found the true running mate to Alexander. Chicago has been looking for such a running mate for a long time.

Perhaps the Cubs would have won if Hollocher had been playing, because the Pittsburghs were successful through the gap at short. The result added another bit of testimony to what may befall a team, any team if it loses a high class ball player. The average never quite comes up to that which is super-average.

HORNSBY HITLESS.

Hornsby never hit a lick for St. Louis. Some of the other players cracked the ball lustily. If Hornsby had got through with a hit the Cards might have pulled out for Donohue was quite soundly thumped by the St. Louis outfit. Donohue is some pitcher and looks very well now and then but he might look better all the time. He hasn't come around as fast as was expected.

Note that Freigan played short for St. Louis. Rickey has been fooling with that position a lot and it isn't sure that Freigan will stay but just the same Rickey took the former hot boy down to Florida and he got his chance in the opening game. Lavan wasn't up to a game and Freigan got away with two hits and some fine fielding.

McQUILLAN IN FORM.

The Giants won the first game because McQuillan came out with a four hit affair against his former playmates. New York got Mac from Boston when the trading was good. The Giants didn't thump young McNamara very hard but Groh hit for long distances and was responsible for three Giant runs, in one way or another. Heinie thought the world series had not stopped.

Of course one game tells only that much of what a club can or can't do but the Bostons look this early as if they are not going to be a hard hitting team. They don't seem to be able to muster that kind of strength. Young of the Giants who was smuck as a hitter during the pre-season Chicago series did not get a hit.

BROOKLYN STYLE.

Brooklyn, with defeat slapping them in the face finished the game at home with a rally that tied the score and kept it that way until the umpires called it a day in the fourteenth. That is typical of what Brooklyn has been doing so far.

Chicago had its best first day crowd ever and a stand in which to accommodate it. Both are records on the North Side. There was not a huge attendance at Boston or Brooklyn but it was not expected. Cincinnati played to a capacity house but it always does—on the first day.

Shurtleff Coach Leaves.

Alton, Ill., April 18.—Walter Wood, athletic director at Shurtleff college, has signed a three year contract to become head coach of football, baseball, and basketball at Muhlenberg college, Allentown, Pa., President Potter announced today. Wood will take up his new duties next September. Wood is a graduate of Kansas university.

TOMMY TO GET CRACK AT JACK

Gibbons and Dempsey Will Fight at Shelby, Mont.

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 18 — Arrangements for a world's heavyweight championship fight between Jack Dempsey, the champion, and Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, have been completed and the fight will be held at Shelby, Mont., July 4, it was announced here last night by Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons.

Representatives of the two fighters have agreed to all terms for the fight and only the signatures of the principals remain to be affixed to the articles to complete the negotiations, which have been under way for several months, according to Kane. The signing procedure was regarded only as a formality by Kane.

SHELBY'S CLAIM.

The main claim Shelby put forth for holding the bout is a natural amphitheater in the contour of the bad-land formations just north of the city. There exists a huge natural stadium, just outside the city limits, in which, it is claimed, seats to accommodate 103,000 can be built for $40,000 less than the arena structure for the Dempsey-Carpentier Jersey City fight cost.

The proposed bout is sponsored by the Montana state department of the American state department of the American Legion, and vast support has been pledged by all interests of the state. Many commercial and other organizations also are working hard for the bout, but incognito, letting the American legion take the credit and lead.

There are 127 legion posts in the state, and recently a quota of ringside seats, at $50 each, was sent to each post. Posts at Fort Benton and Conrad sold their quotas immediately and wired for more reservations.

ALL POSTS INTERESTED.

All posts of the state are taking a lively interest in the proposed bout.

Roy Mollumby, state commander of the legion, says that the necessary guarantee sum of $110,000 has been raised. Of this sum $50,000 will represent a pledge to Jack Dempsey. Under the plan, Dempsey is to get $200,000 and Gibbons $50,000.

Two Canadian cities have pledged $10,000 together.

TYPICAL OIL BOOM TOWN.

Shelby is a railroad junction, and recently has been enjoying a great boom from the discovery of oil in its vicinity. Its population is only 1500. It is a typical Montana prairie town, with wide modern streets, good, substantial cement sidewalks, and high-powered electric lights, and the customary Montana white way on the main thoroughfare.

It is on the transcontinental line of the Great Northern railway, 884 miles from the North Dakota border, 288 miles from the Idaho border, and only thirty-six miles from Sweet Grass, on the Canadian border. Great interest is being taken by the Canadians, and such cities as Calgary, Edmonton, and Lethbridge have promised that at least 20,000 Canadians will attend the fight.

1250 MILES FROM CHICAGO.

Shelby is the junction point of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy line, running direct from Kansas City. Burlington trains from Kansas City connect at this point for points on the Pacific coast.

The Great Northern also runs north out of Shelby to Sweet Grass, connecting at the international border with the Canadian Pacific railway for Calgary and Edmonton.

Shelby is 517 miles from Seattle, 997 miles from San Francisco, 1350 miles from Chicago, and 750 miles from Denver.

GOSSIP of the RING

BY FAIR PLAY.

Copyright 1923.

New York, April 18—Score one for Jersey.

The legal complications which State Comptroller Newton Bugbee threatened to raise if Floyd Johnson and Fred Fulton were not permitted to fight in Jersey City before their May 12 appearance at the Polo Grounds were too many and too complex for the Duke of Muldoon. On the other hand the rational and amiable solution of the differences between the two states may have resulted directly from the legal talent which the state commission has just acquired through the appointments made by Governor Smith.

Anyway the fact remains that Johnson and Fulton will mingle next Monday night and the fighter, who in the opinion of a majority of newspaper critics wins the bout will meet Jess Willard in the Milk Fund Fight. As for Fulton he offered to meet Jess for nothing. If he beats Johnson he will have that opportunity, the wily Rickard, hooked him on his boast.

JESS THE ATTRACTION.

Jess Willard's improved showing in the west will compensate for any bolt that Johnson's meeting with Fred Fulton may or may not give the Milk Fund Show of May 12. All along Jess and not Floyd, has been the drawing card for this bout and reports from competent observers concerning his present form have done a lot to stimulate interest in him. If he stows Johnson away in workmanlike fashion he will at once become a logical contender for the heavy title that Dempsey cannot ignore.

Jess has got over the old idea that every time he lashes out with his full strength he is going to kill some one and his sparring partners are paying the penalty. But they are all still in the land of the living.

J. M. U. Director

ROLAND K. WILLIAMS.

Here is the man upon whose shoulders will fall the awakening of a greater interest in Millikin next year, not only from an athletic standpoint, but from all sources.

Being a high-class fellow, a wonderful athlete and a good student, Williams should do great things for the blue and white school. Millikin alumni, students and townspeople are all rejoicing over the fact the committee was able to secure Williams for the Millikin post.

He will have the support of everyone in his work.

BLOOMERS STAGE GOOD DAY'S DRILL

300 Fans Watch Jackson's Men Show Class.

Bloomington, Ill., April 18 — Fully 300 fans turned out at Fans Field Tuesday to see the Bloomers prance about in the mellow sunshine—indicating that the interest was never greater.

Manager Jackson did not stage a regulation game Tuesday because of the fact that members of the squad were the guests at the Young Men's Club at luncheon yesterday noon, and did not get on to the field until late, but there was a long battle drill, followed by a session in fielding and the fans who turned out got a chance to see every man on the field in action.

BRIBECK A SLUGGER.

David Bribeck, the fence-breaker from Frisco, who arrived this week is attracting a lot of attention because of the manner in which he punishes Mr. Spaulding.

The two fastest men on the field appear to be Hasen Paton and Verne Blenkiron. Both are like greyhounds turned loose and are by far the speediest pair that has been on Fan's Field in recent years.

There will be a real honest-to-goodness ball game Wednesday.

NEUSEL HAS RETIRED.

Outfielder Neusel, who was secured from Nashville in the Southern Association has notified Manager Jackson that he has retired from professional baseball and will not report, and there is one less outfielder to contest against at the south sideball park. Neusel was perfectly satisfied with terms, etc., but had a chance to go into business and decided to make the jump.

Every man is now in camp with the exception of Third Baseman Pat Hardgrove and there is nothing to worry about his absence the way Finn and Griffith are stepping out.

Hoots and Trautwein look like two of the best pitching bets. The former was purchased from Wichita Falls and Trautwein is the slugging southpaw secured from Vernon.

ALL STEEL FOR ILLINI STADIUM

Has Arrived — Committee in $80,000 Saving.

Urbana, Ill., April 18.—All of the steel for the Illinois memorial stadium has been delivered—and there is great rejoicing on the big field south and west of the armory where the great structure is rising skyward.

To erect the stadium requires 2700 tons of structural steel. It cost $180,000 but the executive committee bought it a year ago when steel was at the lowest price it had reached in years and saved probably $80,000.

WILL MOVE RAPIDLY.

From now on the steel will go into place rapidly. Already some of the big girders which will support the upper deck have been swung into place. Forms are being built on the lower deck to make ready for the pouring of concrete which will start within a few weeks, it is predicted.

A typical section of the deck is being constructed and on it a test of concrete and the best way to use it for the structure will be carried out. By this means it is expected that time will be saved and satisfactory results in appearance and durability gained.

VERITABLE LAKE.

Drainage problems will soon be ended when the drain tile system is completed. Just now the field where Zuppke's warriors will meet Chicago on Nov. 3 is a veritable lake. Water is pouring in from an open drain at

Despite the late spring and other setbacks the contractors expect to complete the seats for the opening next fall.

BAIT For BUGS

By H. V. MILLARD

It begins to look like the Weatherman was afraid of being ousted from office and decided to come through with a better brand of weather. A week of this brand of sun shine and those Commies will be in tip top shape.

Dan O'Leary evidently wants to take the Commies this Saturday and Sunday for he challenged Dick Breen and his Peoria Tractors to another game Thursday to get his men in better shape for the Decatur invasion.

Will tell you more about Brenner in a few days but if looks in the old city count for anything then he should be able to go great in this league. He looks the part of a ball player being close to six feet and weighing around 185 pounds.

The Bradley baseball team enroute to Charleston passed through Decatur this Wednesday morning. The athletes are confident of handing Millikin a defeat Friday. Up and at 'em Ranny.

Goldsberry pitching for Wabash Monday afternoon fanned 20 Rose Poly athletes and the Crawfordsville nine won a 4 to 1 victory. Will see how Pete Vaughn's team stacks up against Bradley and St. Viator.

The Danville Fans Association has decided to number their players this season for the benefit of the fans. Might not be a bad stunt for all the clubs to fall in line. It helps in football, why not baseball.

They have some strict rules over in the Indiana high school league. After the close of the regular playing season the Marion team of 1922-23 played an exhibition game with the prospective men who would be used in 1923-24. No admission was charged but a great crowd saw the game. The state association ruled that it was a violation of the rule against post season games and all of the Marion athletes are ineligible to compete the rest of this school year and are on probation until Jan. 1, 1924.

A wonderful bit of head work.

Jess Willard is so confident that he will win from Floyd Johnson, the Iowa heavyweight, that he has asked a betting commissioner to place five thousand that he wins by a K. O. If he does Frank Weir will have seven fits.

Larry Dale has been elected captain of the 1923-24 Illinois College basketball team. He is an all around man down at the Jacksonville institution and should make a popular leader.

FARMING DOESN'T PAY, SAYS JIM

Even though Jim Jeffries, ex-heavyweight champion, does work like this on his California farm, he says farming doesn't pay. So he'll go into the movies to replenish his fortune.

ARREST PAIR; AUTO FILLED WITH GOODS

Freeport, Ill., April 18 — C. W. Walker and Margaret Thomas were taken into custody by the police and their automobile in which they are said to have crossed the country, was seized. The car contained merchandise valued at more than $1,000, including silks, shoes, perfumes and lingerie.

WILL POINT MANY BILLS AT SKIPWITH

Monroe, La., April 18.—Fourteen of the thirty-one bills of information to be filed at Bastrop Wednesday or Thursday in connection with the operation of hooded bands in Morehouse Parish last year will be directed against Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan, in the parish, it was learned Tuesday night from an authoritative source.

Four Commie Recruits Cut From Local Squad

Hefke, Knott, Byrket and Alexander Are Given Releases—Brenner Arrives in Camp.

BY HOWARD V. HILLARD.

The axe fell again in the Commie camp Tuesday and four of the boys who have been trying for regular berths with Charlie Miller's club were cut loose.

Infielders, Hefke, Knott and Byrket and pitcher Alexander were the ones found wanting as far as class B ball is concerned and will have to have another year's experience.

TO CLASS D CLUB.

Wednesday morning Byrket was waiting for a wire from Frank Boyle the Marshalltown skipper who is in need of a first sacker. If the Iowa manager meets Byrket's terms the Richmond Indiana boy will cavort out in the Mississippi Valley circuit this season. He looks like he has the makings of a good ball player having both size, fielding and hitting ability but not up to class B standard as yet.

Charlie Miller was trying to locate Hefke with the Mt. Pleasant club in the West Texas League while Alexander has returned to his home at Filmore. Knott was the first to shove off, returning to Richmond, Indiana.

NEW ARRIVALS.

Herbert Brenner arrived in camp Tuesday afternoon from Birmingham Alabama and will take his first workout with the Commies this afternoon. He has been drilling since the first of March and is in tip top shape.

Brenner a Cincinnati boy was pleased to be sent North as he has had enough of the Southern sun and feels that he will have an even better year in this part of the country.

Outfielder Gruber, who Al Tearney is touting as a great prospect, was due to arrive here Wednesday according to a letter received from the league president. Tearney says that Gruber should be a star in this league and if Al has seen the boy perform should have a pretty good idea of his ability to make the grade.

SUN IS WELCOME.

The athletes were rejoicing Wednesday morning over the prospects of having a warm afternoon. The pitchers need it worse than any of the other athletes for they have not had any chance to get their salary wings in shape owing to the cold and damp weather.

Miller is not forcing any of the hurlers allowing Tom Kelley, Fryman, Kotzelnick and Milstead to take things easy.

Kelley is confident that with a week of warm weather his arm will be back in the old time form when he was a winning pitcher down South. Miller is badly in need of hurlers at this time for with Reynolds to remain in school until May and two hurlers expected to be here from a higher class league not in camp he is put up against a serious proposition as far as the twirling staff is concerned.

Ranny Young was to bring his Millikin team out Wednesday afternoon for a little contest. With the Bradley game coming Friday Young is anxious to have his men face some stiff competition.

PREDICT MUCH FASTER TENNIS

New Foreign Stars Develop and Sport Should Be Better.

BY LAWRENCE PERRY.

Copyright 1923.

New York April 18—While California tennis authorities have given no reason for their unexpected action in calling off the east versus west tennis matches arranged to have been played May 4, 5 and 6, the prevailing theory today is that it was done in order to give William Johnston opportunity to play in the English tourneys

Certainly there is no warrant for the belief in some quarters that Tilden's lack of lustre particularly against little Bill in the 1922 series in the east was responsible for this break in an event which season after season has been growing in importance Insiders know how chagrined Johnston was after his victory over Tilden in last year's matches but so far as may be known this was personal and should not be regarded as influential in the decision of the California association to let the feature go by the board this season It is not however generally believed that Tilden and Johnston will be found playing as partners abroad although it would not be surprising now were Tilden to make the trip

SECOND FID

In the course of a year new stars have developed and looking forward to the Davis cup matches it is reasonable to assume that certain foreign countries notably Australia will make a stronger bid than for some time past Japan has one or two players who have developed great prowess and the chances are that Kumagae will not be missed from the Japanese team as greatly as now seems likely

Australia has two new meteors in J B Milne and J Cleminger McInnis particularly is held to be endowed with all qualities of greatness the most hopeful prospect since the days when Brookes and Wilding appeared on the firmament His general style and his build are suggestive It is said of Bill Johnston and no less a judge of tennis form than Norman Brook remarked after watching his play in the Victoria championships this winter that the youngsters court future was assured McInnis is 0 years old

BEARS WATCHING

Norman Peach will also bear watching He is not so young as Cleminger and McInnis but his game has improved wonderfully under the tuition of Brookes

In this country it is not yet assured that Tilden will absolutely discount the loss of his right hand finger Johnston's greatness will depend upon his stamina Otherwise he has everything requisite to cause him to stand forth as our greatest exponent of lawn tennis Hunter and the Kinsey brothers are regarded as rising upward and this season should bring this fact to the attention of even the casual followers of tennis Lawrence Lee will be a very important contender this season But of all American players the one who by his play indoors and outdoors thus far gives promise of putting Tilden and Johnston up on their mettle is Vincent Richards

TO LEAD DANVILLE

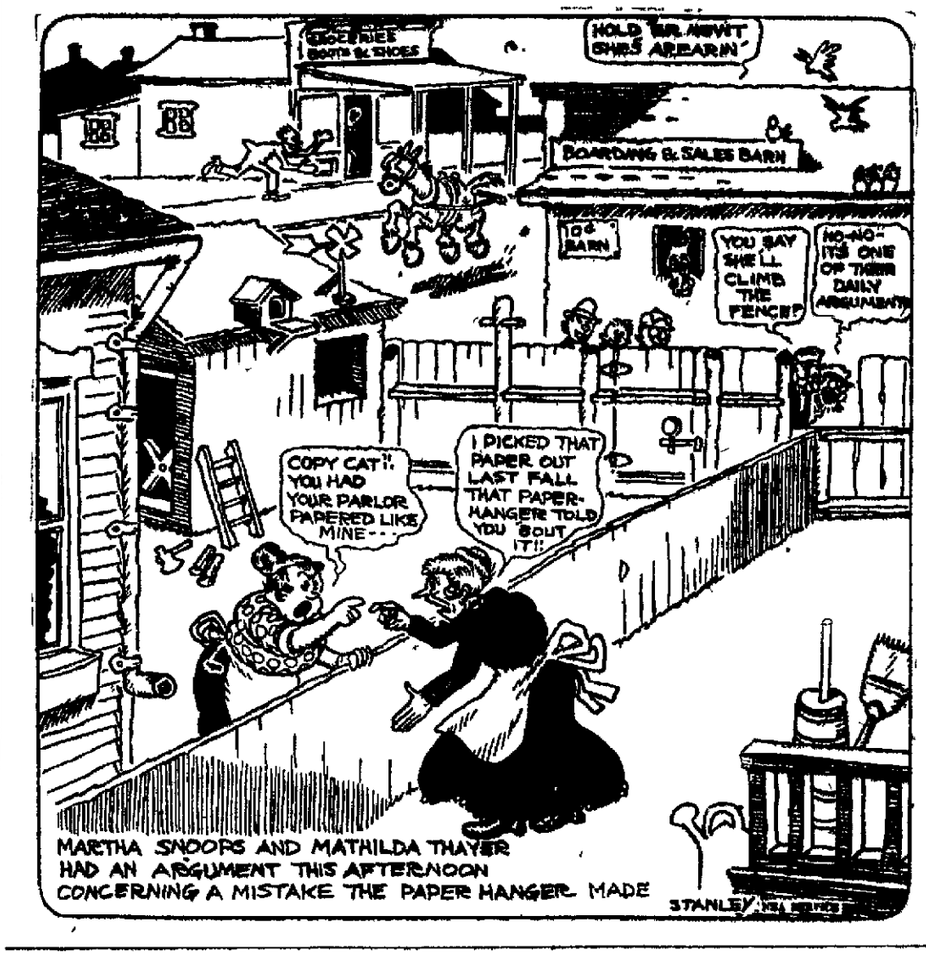

RUDY HULSWITT.

Forgetting 1922 one of the poorest years in all Danville's long baseball history the fans in the Cannon town are looking to Rudy Hulswitt to put them back on the baseball map

Hulswitt an old time baseball man has a likely looking group of players assembled for spring training and expects to be up in the 1923 flag race

He will have the best wishes of Decatur fans for a successful season although the Commies will be out there to beat the Vets every time out if it be possible.

34,000 SEE CUBS LOSE TO PIRATES

Pittsburgh Club Wins 3 to 2 On Three Hits.

Chicago, April 18.—Between 33,000 and 34,000 persons the largest crowd on record to witness an opening game in Chicago, packed the reconstructed Chicago Nationals' ball park Tuesday and saw Pittsburgh win the first game of the season from Chicago, 3 to 2 The park, enlarged to twice its seating capacity during the winter, was opened shortly after noon and by game time all seats had been sold and the fans were standing three and four deep back of the top row of seats.

The usual opening day ceremonies, presentations of flowers and gifts to the players, music and a flag raising by a squad of United States marines took place. Mayor Dever of Chicago pitched the first ball and John Heydler, president of the league, was the guest of honor.

ONE BIG FRAME.

The game itself was a good exhibition, the visitors winning it in the fourth inning, when Grimm uncorked a double to right with the bases filled and two men out Three runs scored and when Grimm attempted to stretch his hit to a triple he was retired at third. Aside from this one inning the Pirates had no other opportunity to score, so well did Osborne's pitch. Two passes in this inning and a fumble by Kelleher who played short in the absence of Hollocher, who is confined at his home in St Louis with influenza, preceded Grimm's winning blow.

WILD PITCH COSTLY

Chicago bunched three hits in the second inning and put across the first run of the game, and added another in the seventh when Morrison became unsteady and walked Miller. The next two outs put Miller on third and he romped home when Morrison cut loose with a wild pitch Aside from these two frames Morrison pitched effectively.

Brooklyn April 18—Brooklyn and Philadelphia battled fourteen innings to a five-five tie to open the season here Tuesday Reuther, who beat the Philadelphians seven straight last season, went the entire 14 innings. The visitors used four pitchers Hubbell had a three run lead, up to the sixth when the Dodgers bunched three singles, filling the bases with one out. CHAMP DEMPSEY WATCHES RUNNERS AT TIA JUANA

They do say that a liking for the ponies has caused Champion Jack Dempsey to hand over considerable filthy lucre to the bookmakers.

Jack is pictured above looking over the runners at Tia Juana, Mex., in company with James W. Coffroth.

Long before Dempsey became a national figure in the boxing game, Coffroth was noted as a promoter of big fights.

When decision bouts to a finish were legislated against in California, Coffroth passed it up and entered the racing game.

He has sponsored the racing at the Tia Juana, Mex., track. The Coffroth Handicap, recently won by Rebuke, was so named in his honor.

Wizard of Baseball Shows Proper Method of Scoring

BY JOHN B FOSTER.

(Special to The Daily Review)

(Copyright 1923)

New York April 18—The question has been asked as to whether an error should be scored against a player because he invaded the territory of another player and took the ball away He made the play erfectly but the scorer who seeks information thinks that invading fielder had no right to do what he did and should be penalized in the tabulation

Under no circumstances That again brings up the point to which reference has been made in regard to the lack of propriety on the part of the scorer in assuming that the game shall be played as he thinks it should be played In other words the scorer assumes the right to say that his opinion is the basis of scoring and not what actually takes place in front of him

If a fielder does invade the territory of another and takes away a ground hit or a fly hit which it seems for the moment he should not have tried to handle the scorer has nothing to do with the play except to put it down as one perfectly made if it is perfectly made If it is not perfectly made the foolish interposition of the bungling fielder who tried to do too much carries its own punishment because he is bound to be scored with an error It would be impossible however to give him an error and a correct play on the same play

For instance if the left fielder took away a fly ball that the center fielder undoubtedly might have caught with ease how would it look to give the left fielder a put out which is a correct play and also an error It could not be done because there would be a greater total of plays on the score book than actually were made on the field You know a score should always balance When you are finished with it the result should come out like bank bookkeeping It is true that it doesn't always come out that way but that is because a mistake has been made somewhere by the scorer

The scorer must guard against every tendency to record the game as he would have it played If the fielders make mistakes of judgment they are not to be introduced into the score unless they combine with them mistakes of play Then they are always to be considered Even then, however, but one error must be recorded There cannot be an error because it didn't look as if the fielder made the right play and also an error because he did not make the play right There is much difference between the two

Very often the shortstop is embarrassed because the third baseman gets in his way If a misplay follows and it is evident that the third baseman is responsible for it the error can be charged against him If the play is correctly made the third baseman must not be given an error because he did interfere. No error took place The batsman reached his base in a fair manner and by earning it and if an error were introduced because the scorer thought the third baseman should not have got out of his position the pitcher would get the benefit of it because he would escape perhaps a run being earned against him No runs can be earned in which errors are responsible in any way, for the batter getting safely around the bases on legitimate chances

MR. ELDER'S COMMISSION.

There are hundreds of guesses as to what happened in the city election Tuesday. One may be as good as another, and this need not be saying a great deal.

It was tough going for guessers, especially those who try to be scientific and thorough in their work. Take those who make a close study of figures in other elections; they were all wrong to start with.

There were 3,500 more votes than the most enthusiastic figured, more than 4,000 bigger than the conservative man thought at all likely. And there wasn't any way to get these extra and unexpected votes into the reckoning.

Mr. Elder is elected mayor, and by a big majority. Having so many supporters in the town, he owes them and the city every ounce of service there is in him. Those who know him intimately are the first to give full assurance he will meet expectations. There is a big program ahead of him, for the town is just now getting its stride in expansion and real development. Any considerable mistake at this time would prove serious. All of us are trusting that Mr. Elder will prove just the man for the job; and he can be assured he will have the active support of all citizens of Decatur.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND.

There is a story that some in the Millikin faculty are complaining because the director of athletics is to get a salary reported to be higher than that paid professors. Something is said about one faculty member not being able to see his way to coming back to the school for next year. Running through the story is an undercurrent notion that something is wrong when a master of athletics gets more money than a faculty member.

One doesn't care to blame the faculty member for having this notion; yet it may be pointed out to him that it may do him no good, very likely will not. Here is another place at which supply and demand enters, and college men tell us this is a law that can't be set aside either by protest or by statute.

If a gentleman has it in mind to get more pay for himself, as he is likely to have from time to time, he must be careful to get into the most promising line for which his talents and industry fit him. There was a day, not many years ago, when the professor could count on getting more pay than goes to the athletic coach, but there are signs this day is passing. And it is true in the biggest schools in the country as well as in smaller institutions. There has been a shifting in the ratio between supply and demand, and of course the old law keeps on getting in its deadly work.

But protests have no bearing in this

FARMERS AND MR. GARY.

Mr. Gary of the steel corporation says something about the need of greater immigration if there is to be enough labor in this country to meet the demands of big industries.

At once there is a reply from Chairman Johnson of the house immigration committee, who seems to hold that Mr. Gary desires more immigration because he wants cheaper labor for his steel mills.

It happens that right at this time there is a report from Mr. Gary concerning wages paid in his mills. This shows almost 215,000 employes in the year 1922, and these received an average of $1,501 each.

It is perhaps the largest payroll in the world outside of government circles, and probably there is no question that it shows the largest average return to the workman. It does seem that it is hardly in order to take any sort of fling at Mr. Gary because of alleged underpayment of men in the employ of the big corporation he heads.

Within two weeks it has been noted that some of the farm organizations have hinted at the desirability of larger immigration, and they give as reason they are hard pushed to find labor to till their acres. Chairman Johnson might make a few remarks to these fellows, tell them they are seeking to get labor for less money. But, politically considered, it would not be quite healthy to do this. These farmers have a great many votes, and Mr. Gary has but one. This does make some difference.

GO CAREFULLY HERE.

Recently we have had numerous suggestions that it might be well to take a legislative holiday for ten to twenty years. By this is meant that for the period there is to be nothing in legislation except the formal passing of appropriation measures.

Some of us are not so sure this would work acceptably. Just now legislative bodies give only part of their energies to the securing of appropriations, and still these are altogether higher than the taxpayer likes.

If the suggestion should be taken seriously, legislatures would have all their time to devote to appropriations. Likely these would become greater than ever before. A member of the legislative body would feel his only chance to make a showing at home is to get an appropriation for his people, and to this he would devote all his energy and trading talent. One fears this would not leave the taxpaying victims in better shape.

It is easy to agree to the proposition that we have entirely too much legislation, but at the same time we have even more appropriation, and this means added taxes.

It will be necessary to find something else for legislators to do.

CARS AND COUNTY FAIRS.

A board of supervisors in Lake county has refused to make an appropriation for a county fair, and it was one of the oldest fairs in the state. This fair lost money in each of the past two years, and the board begins to think it has had enough.

The fair was a success for 56 years, and then it began to go wrong. The reason given for this is the general use of the automobile. It is felt in Lake county that people with cars are all out of tune with county fairs, that they are after something with more jazz in it. They drive into Chicago and become dazzled by the white lights.

So far as we know, this is a new charge brought against the automobile, and one isn't sure it should be allowed to pass without challenge. There are in Lake county more than enough people without cars to make the county fair a success. We wonder why these don't come to the rescue.

And why shouldn't the owner of a car find interest in a county fair for one day in a year? It should be a relief from the tedium of jazz and white lights all other days and nights of the year. A normal person seeks some variety, and a county fair should furnish it.

HE IS IN FOR LIFE.

There is a Banker Mitchell in Chicago, and it is reported he is finding some difficulty to decide between golf or more business. He has been banker in a pretty big way for fifty years, but lately he took a few months off to play golf in Florida and California. He was a success at this game, and he is feeling better now than any other time in the past forty years.

But this man will go back to banking. He will put in another ten years, perhaps; gather some more dollars he can't use; and then they will call him to his everlasting reward.

One can't help feeling that Banker Mitchell is cheating himself at the finish. This is too bad, for he will not have another opportunity to make amends to himself. He will gather in some more money, likely will be a help to the institution; but it does seem it isn't quite fair to ask him to be a dray horse clear to the end.

Likely they have a notion they can't get along at the bank without him, but of course they are wrong in this. He might tell them as much, make it plain to them.

MIGHT SAVE THE WORLD.

They have this down on the calendar as Courtesy week and there is some attempt to boost this good cause. In this instance one feels it is unfortunate that these "weeks" get swallowed up in a maze of activities of different kinds, so that nothing much is accomplished.

It might be well for the country to have a Courtesy week with nothing else on the boards. Courtesy is a bigger thing in everyday affairs than is generally appreciated. It might be made almost the leading force in the country. It is most important, and yet it is pretty generally neglected—only in the cases of a very few is the most made of this saving grace.

One would not care to assert that much courtesy could be learned in a week, even though it were the only thing on the program. But it might be practical to have a great many more people appreciate its importance, after which some of them will guide themselves accordingly. Then they can give a lifetime to perfecting themselves in the art, passing some of it on to the next generation. In the end this might help in saving civilization.

ST. LOUIS MAKES A CALL.

About the middle of May 100 leading merchants of St. Louis will board a special Pullman train and make a pilgrimage into Illinois. They will bring along a brass band of their own, and they will be in Decatur a little while on May 16. They come to remind us that St. Louis is still on the trade map and that big bargains are to be had in that town.

It appears to be something that St. Louis needs to do in all of central Illinois. That is a pretty good town, and it is nearer us than is Chicago. And yet it is a fact that of 100 of us who are foolish enough to go away from home to shop 90 find their way to Chicago—possibly it should be made 95. And there is better train accommodation to St. Louis than to the bigger city on the lake.

One wonders why there isn't more of this trading in St. Louis. It is one of the puzzles in merchandising that keep us bothered much of the time. And there is a feeling that the coming of the 100 and the brass band will make no perceptible change.

GREATEST LOVERS.

A Baltimore man wrote the meat of his will in four words: "Everything to my wife."

To let them understand he knew what he was about, he wrote by way of postscript to the will: "A wonderful little girl is my wife."

It does seem there isn't much more than can be told. Yet we feel like extending thanks to the news agency that sent this story to all corners of the country. One trusts that somebody was inspired to cable the story over to the other side for it may help to tell it all the way round the world.

It is about the best thing we have had in love stories in this generation; in fact one doesn't recall anything in literature that comes up to it.

There are wives in the world to whom this tribute should be paid, but not many husbands have the happy gumption to rise to the occasion.

April Folly Strikes Two Modern Authors.

ELLIOTT H. PAUL.
BOOTH TARKINGTON.

"IMPROMPTU," by Elliott H. Paul (Knopf).

"THE FASCINATING STRANGER," by Booth Tarkington (Doubleday, Page).

Others briefly mentioned are: "The World Crisis," by Winston Churchill (Scribners); "The Lone Winter," by Anne Bosworth Greene (Century); "A Man From Maine," by Edward Bok (Scribners); "From McKinley to Harding" by H. H. Kohlsaat (Scribners); and "Some Impressions of My Elders," by St. John G. Ervine (Macmillan).

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

New York, April 18.—The folly of April is in "Impromptu." The spirit of April—restlessness, dissatisfaction neurosis—must have been upon Elliott H. Paul when he wrote the novel.

Paul characterises his work as "a novel in four movements," but he doesn't achieve a symphony. The entire opus is in staccato. The emotional crescendo is never abated. Thus the reader is gathered up by the opening measures and swept along well into the middle of the book before he wearies of the fast tempo.

"Impromptu" is as vivid, as colorful as anything written in the past year. Scenes, characters, conversations, action, all are set down clearly and concisely. The musical flare of Paul often finds vent in passages as rhythmically measured as poetry.

But that avails nothing beyond delight in pretty writing. The author dresses a pig or two in silks and satins. One hopes that his main character may materialize in the flesh, so that a slap in the face may awaken some manly trait in him.

* * *

IRWIN ATWOOD is the central figure in "Impromptu." His boyhood is spent in a New England town as bleak and provincial as Gopher Prairie. He is a burden to his mother. He is ever engaged in some petty dishonesty.

Swept up in the war, one looks for some ennobling trait to develop, but it never does. To the very end he is a craven coward.

He steals small sums from his mother. He uses funds of his frat. He takes his buddy's life belt when he thinks his transport is about to sink. He complains of every petty task that fell to his lot in the army. He returns and sponges on a kindly employer.

* * *

ATWOOD meets Dorothy, the girl he left behind him when he enlisted. He had left her in a sorry predicament, but others had cared for her. When Atwood meets her again she is earning her livelihood in a manner generally considered unconventional, not to say immoral. He accepts money from her.

A professional dancer sees them at a Boston dancing pavilion. He offers them a place in New York. Dorothy's invalid sister is a burden that cannot be carried along. Atwood plans to murder her. He believes he causes her death when she collapses and dies. He re-enlists in the army.

* * *

WHEN Paul wrote this story he evidently pledged himself to the truth. But he often tells the truth uncouthly. He talks like a rough-neck. He goes too much into details regarding human functions. The ugliness lies in trivialities not essential to the story. That sort of thing constitutes posing.

* * *

PAUL'S flare for music is evidenced in this passage:

Thus the rhythmic swing of many arms, the vigorous plowing ahead of strong young chests.

Legs in eights, tramp, tramp, tramp.

Faces to the front, tramp, tramp, tramp.

* * * The regulars.

APRIL folly is in Booth Tarkington's new volume of short stories collected under the title of the principal one, "The Fascinating Stranger," but the neurosis is centered entirely in the character. In almost every story in the volume Tarkington evolves a whimsical, humorous tale from some form of mental aberration. Thus in the title story we find Mr. Tuttle, who makes his home in a deserted limousine body and gains affluence through trading a stolen lawnmower for a package of cigarets, 78 cents and a diamond ring he thought worthless.

In another tale a young man is so upset by witnessing the Follies Bergere that he was placed in a sanitarium for 16 years. When he returned to the world he could not account for the passage of time. His little niece appeared to have reached maturity overnight. She "threw a toddle" and the modern form of entertainment unbalanced his reason again.

These stories have appeared in various magazines. They do not form as substantial a contribution as Tarkington has made to literature heretofore, but they make excellent spring reading.

Turning the Pages

Of course, Winston Churchill was expected to write a book on the war. He kept a written report of all his acts as first lord of the admiralty and of his many speeches. "The World Crisis" is based on them.

When summer comes read "The Lone Winter." It is Anne Bosworth Greene's first book and deals with her experiences on a Vermont farm through winter months.

Two recent biographies, not as romantic as "Barnum" but as notable of American progress, are "A Man From Maine," by Edward Bok, and "From McKinley to Harding," by H. H. Kohlsaat. The man from Maine is Cyrus Curtis, publisher. Kohlsaat's book is an intimate account of his acquaintance with six presidents.

The leading literary lights of England are painted at first hand in "Some Impressions of My Elders," by St. John G. Ervine.

BROTHERS ALL.

We're brothers all, whate'er the place,
Brothers whether in rags or lace,
Brothers all, by the good Lord's grace.

Some may sit in a royal hall,
Some may dwell where the rooms are small,
But under the skin we are brothers all.

Some may toil 'neath a burning sun,
Some may dream where the waters run,
But we're brothers all when the day is done.

Dreams of splendor and dreams of rest
Warm the proud and the poor man's breast;
What is best for God, for us all is best.

By the sun that shines and the rains that fall,
By the shadows flung on the garden wall,
By the good Lord's grace, we are brothers all.

By the hurt that comes and the failing tear,
By the common grief at the silent bier,
And the grave that awaits, we are brothers here.

Ten Years Ago Today In Decatur

APRIL 18, 1913.

Superintendent of Parks Frank Torrence demonstrated to a committee of school children from each school, how they should plant the 5,000 catalpa trees which the Gushard Dry Goods company was distributing to school children that day.

Mrs. S. P. Hoy won the gold medal in a contest held by the W. C. T. U. at Warrensburg.

Mrs. Mattie Birks of Harristown was apointed postmistress at that place and quiet again reigned there. The villagers had been arounsed over a plan to appoint another resident to the job.

A committee of Macon county farmers headed by George Johnston planned to go to Springfield to oppose the Tice road bill. They objected to state aid and also to taking the main highways out of the control of the townships.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

The local gas company decided to build a $20,000 addition to its plant.

Washington Believes Prosperity is Sound

Competent Observers Say Danger of Inflation Reduced by Flood of Publicity.

By Mark Sullivan.
Copyright, 1923.

Washington, D. C., April 18.—As to two aspects of the present wave of prosperity, Washington has fairly definite opinions as regards the matter of inflation raised by Mr. Schwab, and perfectly definite opinions about the matter of immigration raised by Mr. Gary. The decidedly prevailing feeling here is that the prosperity is soundly backed and is fairly well assured for a reasonably long period. Those most competent to judge say that the danger of inflation is obviated by precisely the fact that so much attention is called to it.

The amount of talk about it, coupled with so recent a memory as to what happened three years ago, creates, in the minds of bankers and business men, just that state of caution which makes excessive inflation unlikely.

DISAGREE WITH GARY.

But when Mr. Gary, says that greater immigration is a requisite for continued prosperity and when the United States chamber of commerce joins in this recommendation, the answer of Washington is firmly in the negative.

There is no one question about which the opinion and the intentions of congress are so clear as about immigration. This firmness and nearness to unanimity of position on the part of congress is the reflection of a corresponding state of mind throughout the country.

ANTI-ALIEN FEELING.

Persons who live in cities or otherwise in contact with foreign colonies are quite unaware of the intensity of the anti-alien feeling throughout the other parts of the country. In congress last session the committee which handles immigration sat more days, examined more witnesses, and received more petitions than any other committee. It is not unreasonable to say that there is more public interest in immigration in almost any other subject brought up in congress.

The overwhelming trend of this interest is in the direction of further restriction of immigration, and it can be said with a good deal of confidence that if any change is made by the next congress in the present immigration law, that change will be in the direction of reducing rather than increasing the number of immigrants. In fact, a bill providing for further restriction has already been proposed.

ALLOWS 3 PER CENT.

The present law permits the coming in of three percent of the number of each race who were already in the United States according to the census of 1910. The proposed new law reduces the percentage from 3 to 2 percent and changes the basis from the census of 1910 back to the census of 1890.

The net result of these changes will be to reduce greatly the number of immigrants, and especially to reduce the number coming from southern and eastern Europe.

QUOTAS EXHAUSTED.

The answer which is made by the proponents of further restriction to those who demand more labor from abroad, is that this additional labor can come in if it wants to under the present law. Under the operations of the present three percent law, the countries of southern and eastern Europe, like Italy and Poland, have exhausted their quotas each year.

But the countries of western Europe, like Germany, Sweden, Norway, England, Scotland and Ireland have not exhausted their quotas. In any one of the past two years upward of a hundred thousand immigrants from these western European countries could have come in under the provisions of the present law.

The friends of restriction say that the thing to be done by those who want more labor and more immigrants, is to stimulate the immigration of Germans, Swedes, English, Irish and Scotch, rather than try to change the law so as to let in more from southern and Eastern Europe.

IS SERIOUS FACTOR.

It is admitted that the restriction of immigration is a serious factor in an economic and business sense. It is considered that the value of an immigrant delivered to our shores, considered as an addition to our national wealth, is not less than $2,000. Inasmuch as the immigration restriction law has reduced the annual number of immigrants from something like a million to something less than a third of a million, it is conceded that the net result is a measurable retarding of our national growth.

But to this argument a reply is made in the shape of a quotation from one of president Harding's campaign speeches in which he said, in effect, that "We have too long looked upon immigration in terms of the raw material of industry, we must in the future look upon it in terms of its effect upon our social organization."

Enough Over.

Buck Acklin big boss of the Double A ranch, plots with Buck Bodine new owner of the old Webster place to rob the Basques of Paradise Valley of their water supply. Jose Arrascada, owner of the Rancho Buena Vista is father of Mercedes, Esteban and little blind Basilio. Esteban is caught spying by Blaze Kildare of the Double A. Esteban shoots Blaze in the arm Bodine attends a Basque meeting as an uninvited guest.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY.

"My rights have priority over all other water rights in this valley, exceptin' Acklin's!" Buck tried to drop this statement like a bombshell. He gazed about the room to watch its effect

Jose shook his head judicially.

"Again I say, the law will decide! If Acklin builds a fence on his own property to keep us out, that is his right. If we destroy it, or trespass on his land, and resort to our guns, then we are outside the law. We want to go into court with clean hands'"

"You bet," Tuscarora chimed in. "In a week we will find out where we're at. We all know Tom Brand. He's been on the square with us everytime. I'll run down and see him"

The little man stopped short. His eyes singled out Bodine:

'Now suppose you beat it out of here, big fellow. The going may be rough if you wait until this meeting breaks up."

"Don't come back, either!" some one yelled.

Bodine's eyebrows flattened out. "I'll go," he muttered. "But not because any one here looks bad to me. I came to talk peace; but all I've heard is a lot of mouthing about the law."

He had reached the end of the veranda and was about to open the patio gate when he almost stumbled over Basilio.

Mercedes had found the boy awake when she had left the room where the meeting was held, so she had dressed him, and the two of them had wandered about in the moonlight.

She heard the child cry, and saw Bodine raise his foot and brush him aside. In a second she was up with them and took the little fellow into her arms.

Basilio ceased crying and Mercedes started him into the patio; but she stood her ground and laughed contemptuously at her enemy.

Bodine's cruel mouth held its diabolical grin as he got into his saddle. Once seated, he wheeled his horse on its hind legs and reaching down, caught the surprised girl around the waist and lifted her beside him. She bit and scratched him, but he was too strong for her. Bending his head, he kissed her passionately on her unprotected lips. Her finger nails ripped his face as he put her down.

CHAPTER XII.

The Last Trail.

ESTEBAN'S ignominious retreat smarted him to the heart. He sulked and fumed for a long time before he found the courage to face Romero and the caustic Salvator.

While he had been outside, venting his wrath on the desert night, they made plans of their own. Romero had passed the word to those apparently dissatisfied with the way the meeting was going to be at Cesar's place at midnight. They did not importune Esteban to join them. He felt the rebuff, and immediately resolved to go.

He had brought his reata to his room and when he had opened his window he quickly noosed the rope over a bed post and slid noiselessly to the ground.

It took him some time to reach Ferri's house.

"We have our guns with us; Cesar has tools enough to go around," Romero was saying as Esteban arrived. "We'll go up Rebel Creek as far as the wire. We can cut it before we are discovered. Once inside, you can hold off theft men while some of us make short work of that bank. A stick of dynamite will blow it into Idaho! We won't wait for any law! Once we get the water turned where it belongs, Acklin and Bodine will never get it back. If you are willing to try it, raise your hands!"

One by one the hands went up, until Romero waved his followers to their horses.

And as they moved through the velvety night the man whom they hoped to catch off his guard sipped coffee with a dozen of his riders in the dimly lighted dining room at the Bull's Head. Kildare, his arm bandaged, lounged across the table from Morrow. Somebody yawned. Cash looked at his watch. It was almost two o'clock.

Melody, Brother Jones, Patterson, and the rest of the men got to their feet and began buckling on their guns. Cash scratched his head unconsciously.

"Wish the Big Boss was here," he said aloud. "Boys," he went on slowly, in a tone that said he made his decision as he went along, "We're going into the valley below our wire!"

Hands stopped moving. Some one dropped a gun. With one accord they turned and regarded him expectantly. Cash caught the tension.

"The fence is fifty yards inside our line," he went on. "We built it there so as to be safe without checking up. "We'll go down through the Chimney, and still-hunt from the little coulee that lies half-way to the creek. If we have any trouble we'll be on our own land" The foreman's eyes rested on Blaze He had picked up his gun along with the others.

"You ain't goin,' are you, Kildare, not with that arm?" Cash asked a note of gruff admiration for the man's pluck creeping into his voice

"My business arm is all right" Blaze grinned. "I'm almin' to see this thing through."

Dark screening clouds hid the moon as they made the coulee Brother Jones started for the creek-bottom. He went a hunderd yards when he turned to send them a low cautious whistle.

"They're coming now," Brother Jones whispered "About two dozen; They'll be up to the wire in three or four minutes. I caught 'em jumping 'crost that bare spot round the bend. Now there'll be hell to pay"

One minute, ... two minutes,

BENDING HIS HEAD HE KISSED HER PASSIONATELY. HER FINGER NAILS RIPPED HIS FACE.

.....a few seconds .. .. ..and the creek bottom swarmed with men. Morrow's hand went up. The old battle-cry of the Double A rang out and like the fabled demons of the Andes, Acklin's hired warriors crashed into the bewildered Basques.

To get away as quickly as possible seemed to be the one ambition of most of the men from the valley.

Little Salvator and four or five others however fought their way to Esteban's side and tried to return the fire of Acklin's riders. But every time the Double A guns roared and ripped wide the darkness some one deserted.

The firing continued. Salvator looked for his companions. Only Esteban, Romero, and he were left Then, seeing the battle was hopeless, he followed his friends Romero and Esteban had about enough of it, too. The bank of the creek offered them fair protection. Around the bend the ground flattened out. It meant a wild dash as the Double A men closed in.

Ten seconds brought them to the flat country where they were an easy target. The Double A guns flashed. One of the boys shrieked and toppled out of his saddle. A second volley followed, but the other Basque was out of sight.

"Who is he?" Cash cried, as Melody and Blaze rode down into the bottom.

The boy lay on his face. Melody turned him over.

"Ain't that too bad?" he groaned Then to Cash: "It's Old Ironsides' kid!"

And as they carried Esteban to the Bull's Head, Mercedes wondered why little Basilio sobbed as he tossed in his tiny bed. Long desert miles stretched between the Rancho Buena Vista and the spot where Esteban fell. And yet, with an intuition rare even among the blind, the little lad knew that something terrible had happened.

Mercedes awakened her brother and tried to comfort him. "What is the matter?" she implored.

"Esteban!" he cried; "something bad has come, madrecita."

The little pet name went unheard. Mercedes only knew her throat was dry with sudden agony. She had had her own misgivings about Esteban. Hastily throwing on a wrap, she started for Jose's room. The hallway made a sharp angle as it turned to lead into the wing where he slept. A small window opened on the front yard from the angle.

Without thinking, Mercedes stopped and looked down. Esteban's window was plainly visible; and hanging from it she saw the dangling reata.

"Madre de Dios!" she gasped; "the child is right!"

With swift feet, she ran for her father. Through the closed door she told him what she had discovered. Jose bade her go back to Basilio. He dressed hurriedly and followed her to the little fellow's bedside.

Then Mercedes and her father tip-toed downstairs. The old Basque pulled the bell-cord for Mariano. When the mozo appeared, frightened at being called at this unusual hour, Jose ordered him to get his horse.

Tears filled Mercedes' eyes as she saw her father take down his rifle and fill his long-unusued belt with cartridges. His set face and sparing words did not serve to lessen her dread.

When Jose had crossed the creek he held to the north until he came to the entrance of Smoky Canon.

He turned his horse into the longer trail that led to the fence and up to the Chimney. As he did so, a gun flashed from the rim-rocks above him. His horse jumped, and Jose lurched and fell head foremost to the ground. He rolled over on his side in a brief convulsion and then lay still. No moan or sigh of pain escaped him.

Jose's horse stared at his fallen master. He came close and nudged him with his nose. But the wide-open unseeing eyes of the man who had ridden him so long were glazed in death.

Old Ironsides would never ride the trails again!

OPERETTA PLEASES AT MT. PULASKI

High School Students Give Performance.

Mt. Pulaski, April 18—"The Merry Milk Maids," the operetta staged at the Mt. Pulaski township high school Monday and Tuesday evenings by the students, was one of the best that has ever been seen and heard there.

The leading characters were taken by the Misses Nona Holst, Dorothy Hershey, Esther Miller and Ruth and Reba Swinney, and Dess Drum, John Ramos, George Pattison, Raymond Russell and Foster Morris and were exceptionally well expressed their singing and stage presence being far above the average. The chorus of milk maids in their pretty costumes and the jolly farm lads were all that could be desired in both singing and action and presented a very pleasing and harmonious setting, while the piano accompaniment of Miss Carolyn Snyder was perfect.

Miss McNeal one of the high school faculty, was the director and had the entire operetta under perfect control and management and handled the different numbers so expertly and quietly that few in the large audience realized her presence.

FARMERS BACK IN FIELDS

The farmers of this vicinity are again getting back into their fields after having been further delayed by wet weather Practically all of the oats seeding was done before the last rains While the work of plowing has been somewhat delayed there was a large percentage of ground that is to be planted to corn which was fall and winter plowed. The winter was so mild and the ground frozen so little of the time that a good many farmers were plowing at different times nearly all winter A few days ago and just before the last rains the ground was said to be working very nicely

HARDWARE—SHEET METAL WORK

Old in Years

But still a youthful beauty

By Edna Wallace Hopper

For 40 years I have been in the limelight, and for 32 years a stage star. Yet I still am playing youthful parts, and I look like a girl in her 'teens

Thousands of women see me daily, and marvel at my looks. Many have asked me the secret, and urged me to supply them what I use.

I have now decided to do so, as a duty to my sex. I have arranged so all who wish may get the helps I found. And I hope and believe that they will bring to millions what they brought to me

1—A new-type clay

Many years ago French experts taught me the use of clay. And that, with other helps, made me a famous beauty.

The first clays were crude and muddy, such as many still employ. Their results amazed me. But they have since perfected a new-type clay which brings manifold effects.

Certain scientists have studied clays for more than 20 years. They have found that 3 are clay, mineral laden, which brings maximum results. They have found ways to refine it, to remove the useless mud They clay I now use is white and clean and dainty.

They have found added, factors which may bring new benefits They tell me this white clay, which I call my Youth Clay, is the last word in facial clays. It brings entirely new conceptions of what clay can do.

A new complexion

Youth Clay brings a new complexion quickly. It purges the skin of all that clogs it—the causes of sallowness, blackheads and blemishes.

It draws the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is that rosy afterglow which amazes one at first

It firms the skin, combats the cause of lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. Many women, in 30 minutes, seem to drop ten years. My bloom and contour at my grand old age shows what constant use will do.

Women cannot look their best without the use of clay. Nor can they keep their youth. The users of clay stand out in every crowd.

Now this super-clay—my White Youth Clay—is placed at your command. It does the utmost that a clay can do. You will always thank me for it when you learn how much it means

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Clay is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters Prices 50c and $1 per tube Also my Youth Cream, which should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth—my unique liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

If you want more beauty and longer youth, these are the ways to attain them They cost me years of searching and a fortune. They cost you very little.

ELMER ELDER ELECTED MAYOR BY 1766 IN RECORD VOTE

Van Praag Loses by 36 Votes, in Unofficial Count; Kayser, Ruthrauff, McNabb and Pitner Being Selected.

ELECTED

Mayor

Plurality
Elder 1766

Commissioner

Kayser 1953
Ruthrauff 1620
McNabb 651
Pitner 36

Elmer Elder was elected mayor of Decatur at the election Tuesday by a majority of 1,766, Elder receiving 11,499 and Dinneen, 9,733 votes.

The four commissioners in the next council will be Philip Kayser, Harry Ruthrauff, Arthur L. McNabb and Thomas Pitner. Pitner led Alex Van Praag by only thirty-six votes when the final returns were in, he receiving 9,176 votes to Van Praag's 9,140.

VOTE CAST

The vote as tabulated by the election bureau on commissioner follows

Kayser	11,109
Ruthrauff	10 756
McNabb	9,787
Pitner	9,176
Van Praag	9,140
Montgomery	8 296
Senger	7 900
Reinhold	7,217

ELDER BIG SURPRISE.

Elder's majority for mayor was the largest majority any candidate ever received for mayor of Decatur and it surprised not only the Dinneen supporters, but the most ardent workers for Elder.

The total vote cast at the election was 21,501, by far the largest vote ever cast in the city of Decatur.

VAN PRAAG DEFEATED

The final elimination of Alex Van Praag, as the final count seems to show, by a majority of thirty-six votes by Tom Pitner was the great surprise of the evening after the general trend of the vote had been seen and results in other cases discounted.

Starting strong, Van Praag held second or third place in the list of commissioner candidates fully half the evening when Pitner, whose showing in the early reports was very poor, began to creep up on the present commissioner of streets. With three precincts yet to come in, two in the east part of town and one in the west, Pitner's home precinct, Pitner was leading by a small margin and the general belief was that Van Praag's probable majority in the two east side precincts would wipe out the Pitner majority and that the present street commissioner would be re-elected.

PITNER'S PRECINCT DOES IT.

The fifth, Pitner's home precinct presented him with a majority of 599 while the tenth, one of the east side precincts, gave Van Praag only 153 majority and the remaining precinct, the twelfth, gave him only 330 more, but not quite enough to overcome the lead held by Pitner.

Many thought that Pitner would run stronger than he did There were rumors that Pitner was not supported by the men whom he worked for. Another was that his last day announcement for the baby clinic caused some organized opposition Van Praag's strength is attributed only to the fact that he made an appeal as the "under-dog." His opposition to propositions supported by others of the Borchers administration placed him in the light of a fighter and this appealed to many.

KAYSER HIGH MAN.

Philip Kayser surprised even himself, heading the ticket with the greatest number of votes ever polled by any commissioner in Decatur, 11 109, Harry Ruthrauff, the dean of the council, coming second with 10 756.

Kayser's enormous vote shows what a persistent, intelligent campaign toward a definite goal can do Months ago Mr. Kayser announced that he would be a candidate for commissioner in the spring election He announced then that he would be a candidate for the street commissionership and in his hard-headed practical way, to prepare himself for it, he took jobs on the paving work which was being done on Decatur streets at that time, working part of the time for Fife & Collins on the brick paving work and part of the time for Birt & Driscoll, the contractors who were laying the asphalt re-surfacing.

PERSONAL CAMPAIGN.

Quietly, steadily, persistently, making his own campaign without fighting anyone else Mr. Kayser met personally thousands of voters during the months since he announced himself as a candidate.

Without animosity and with a wholly friendly spirit Kayser went about the business of winning the campaign. That he was able to come from the position of a comparatively unknown man to be the leader on the ticket shows that his plan of campaign was effective.

M'NABB EXPERIENCED.

Arthur McNabb's victory, after the showing made in the primary, was not a surprise and he comes to the office to which he will doubtless be assigned, commissioner of finance, with probably the best knowledge of the city's actual business and business methods of any man who could have been selected aside from the present commissioner of finance. Mr. McNabb has been comptroller and connected with the city business departments for many years

Tom Pitner, who will probably be assigned to the department of health and safety, is well known in Decatur where he has been active for many years He is head of Pitner & Co., burial shoe manufacturers, has been probation officer, is now secretary of the Decatur Rotary club and for many years has been quite active in city politics. Mr. Pitner took his stand on the general health policies pursued by J. P. Mattes, the present commissioner in charge of that department.

ALL PROPOSITIONS IN ELECTION CARRY

New Police Commission to Be Created.

It appears that all of the propositions of public policy carried by safe majorities in the city election Tuesday. This is true of the four additions to the city, and with three districts to hear from the police and fire commission proposition is ahead by 800 votes. The additions carried by eight to one.

The first of the annexation propositions takes in a section of the city north from the center line of Harrison avenue and east of Graceland avenue

The second proposition takes in territory in Cushing's first addition west of Westlawn avenue

The third proposition annexes the east 120 feet of all that part of the east half of the northeast quarter of section 17, 16, 2 east lying south of the Springfield road and is in the west edge of the city.

The fourth proposition takes in territory lying west of Dunham street and north of King street in what is known as the commissioner's division of the Wesley Carr estate

There seemed to be no especial effort to defeat the annexation propositions There seems to be an element that always votes no on all of the propositions of public policy, an element that always votes yes, and an element that never pays any attention to the little ballots. In Tuesday's election there were 12,820 who voted only on the question of city officials.

The vote in favor of the police and fire commission proposition, so far as the returns show, was 6,851 to 5,543.

RECORD VOTE OF 21,501 SURPRISES OLD POLITICIANS

Anyone who would have made a prophecy that the vote in the election Tuesday would have exceeded the tremendous vote polled in the primary in March by forty per cent would have been looked upon as a political dreamer.

Elmer Elder, one of the candidates for mayor, seemed to sense the situation Tuesday morning for soon after 9 o'clock he remarked, as the demand for more and more automobiles came to headquarters, that a total of 18,000 would be left far behind when the total of the votes would be cast up that night.

PERFECT DAY.

The perfect day, the best organizations ever created for getting out the vote, the general interest which had been stirred from the many angles and issues which had been injected into the campaign all tended to bring out a record vote—but that there were 21,501 persons of voting qualifications within the city limits of Decatur not even the best posted politician guessed.

That Decatur's vote should increase forty per cent in four years set the population experts to figuring.

"How large is the population of Decatur now?" was the question often asked during the evening Tuesday.

"Good heavens," said an old timer as he sat in The Review office Tuesday night and saw the huge totals grow, as he thought of the days when such things had been done, "are they voting all the cemeteries?"

CONCLUDE HEARING ON I. C. PETITION

Cairo, Ill., April 18.—The hearing on the petition of the Illinois Central railroad to build a new line from Edgewood, Ill., to Fulton, Ky., was concluded at a session before Interstate Commerce commissioners here Tuesday. Protesting cities introduced a report here showing that $115,000,000 of property in southern towns would be affected adversely by the building of the new line.

DINNEEN'S FRIENDS CAUSED DEFEAT

Thousands Personally Like Defeated Candidate.

Dan Dinneen has many friends in Decatur who would be willing and glad to see him advanced politically but who were not willing to have him as mayor of Decatur.

Mr Dinneen is a friendly sort of fellow and he has thousands of friends and to the association with some of them he can attribute his defeat.

FRIENDS DEFEAT DINNEEN

Decatur is basically for good government. It is basically in favor of the regime which will tend to hold down and to control those elements which tend toward lawlessness Decatur showed that that was its belief long before the Volstead act or the eighteenth amendment were thought of. It went "dry" before any other city of its size in Illinois abolished the liquor traffic and fought the attendent evils of the old saloon days

Mr Dineen's friends, too many of them, are still traveling in that political circle that went out of date in this town many years ago

To that basic error Mr Dinneen liked as he is by thousands who do not agree with the group which supports him on the other basis, should attribute his defeat

RELIGION NOT ISSUE

It is not believed that the religious issue which was raised by bigoted minds on both sides in the mayoralty fight did either side any good. It is believed that what was gained by the use of religious prejudice propaganda was about offset by losses caused by the same agitation

The close affiliation of Mr Dinneen with the Len Small organization did not help him in a rather large circle of Republicans The seeming attempt of the small organization to get control of city affairs was resented

VAN'S STRENGTH PUZZLE TO MANY

Was Continually Making New Acquaintances.

Alex Van Praag's strength in the primaries and election in Decatur was a puzzle to old-time politicians To a student of his methods it can be traced to his indefatigable industry in making acquaintances, to his ability consistently and regularly to get himself into the position of being, apparently, the underdog in every disagreement in the city council, and to his continual mixing in school, church and lodge entertainments It was a conspicuous example of the political value of acquaintanceship.

On the other hand, Mr. Van Praag lost out in the election because of the fatal mistake of going out with his hand against every other man in the race, particularly against those with whom he had been associated in the council for four years

The charges which he made against his fellow commissioners of bad faith in handling city funds, his starting of a suit against them which he has failed to press to a trial, his evident intent all too often to put his fellow members in a bad light before the general public, all had a cumulative effect in building up a group of enemies which finally brought him to his Waterloo.

DECATUR'S NEW CITY ADMINISTRATION

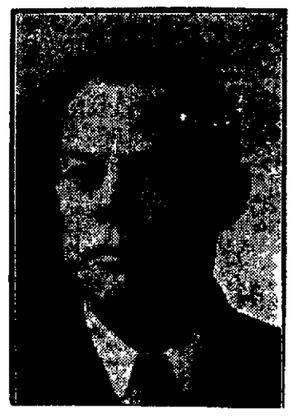

ELMER ELDER
Mayor.

PHILIP KAYSER
Commissioner.

HARRY RUTHRAUFF
Commissioner.

ARTHUR M'NABB
Commissioner.

THOMAS W. PITNER
Commissioner.

HARRY RUTHRAUFF DEAN OF COUNCIL

Starting Thirty-Fifth Year as Official.

Harry Ruthrauff is the dean of Decatur's city council. He is now entering upon his fourth term as city commissioner and his thirty-fifth year as an employe and official of the city of Decatur, all of those years in the department of which he has again been elected the head, the water and sewer department.

STARTED IN 1888

In June, 1888, Harry Ruthrauff took a position, or perhaps it would be more to the point to say that he "got a job," with the water department of the city as a calker of water pipe Three years later he was made foreman of the gang, and three years after that, in 1894, the plumbing inspector job was created and added to his other duties

From that time until 1911, when the commission form of government was voted into use here, Mr Ruthrauff continued with the water works job

LEAD THREE TIMES

In that year he ran for commissioner and led the ticket as it has consistently led it ever since and he was next to the high man in Tuesday's election the phenomenal vote for Philip Kayser being the only vote ahead of Ruthrauff's

Mr. Ruthrauff is the most even tempered man, the man who says the least and is the least contentious man in the city council Quiet, gentle soft spoken he is, but he remains a man of firm conviction and on any question which involves ethics or good government he is always found on the right side—the crooked dance hall, the law-breaking pool room, or any other form of law breaking gets short shrift from Mr Ruthrauff

He gets that big vote because of his quiet friendliness and his very evident desire to do what is right and fair.

GEE WRITES WILL ON LAUNDRY TAG

San Francisco, April 18.—The will of Gee Chong Wong, laundryman, written in Chinese on the back of a laundry slip, was probated today in the superior court He left an estate valued at $14 000 It contained forty-eight words and left everything to Gee's widow.

HOW TO MAKE ONE SLIP DO FOR MANY DRESSES

Costume slips have almost become costumes in themselves

Blouses are so loose of line that a trimly-fitting underwaist, to which skirts may be attached is needed to give the proper swing to the skirt.

So the slip—really a dress skirt with plain bodice—has become more and more elaborate

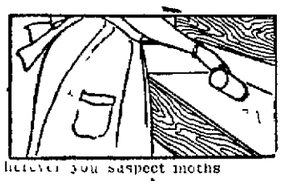

Many show side drapes and tunics, or wide flounces Some are made in wrap-around style, with circular pleats

The idea is that one slip may be used with several blouses, since it's fashionable to have skirt and blouse of different fabrics

Little Boy Imitates Bird

Discovers Nest of Eggs in Yard.

BY MARY SEAMAN.

One spring morning when Little Boy stepped out into the yard he found the whole world was beautiful for it was just after one of the spring rains had washed the world clean. High up in the top of a maple tree a cardinal grosbeak was singing as though his life depended upon his song. He was happy,—happy, as only a bird can be while he pours out his heart in this way. He knew a secret that Little Boy had not found out, although it was to happen that he would know it before many days went by. The secret was a nest of eggs safe in a mass of vines in Little Boy's own yard.

"What cheer, chee, chee, chee. What cheer, chee, chee, chee." That is what the red bird was singing Little Boy listened and then decided he would try to whistle that song himself. He hesitated a bit for he remembered the day he called the big black crows about his head when he was in the woods, but deciding he would not be afraid of red birds he tried the whistle

It wasn't a decided success that time but after several days he succeeded in imitating the bright colored fellow pretty well, and was rewarded in his efforts by hearing him answer the call.

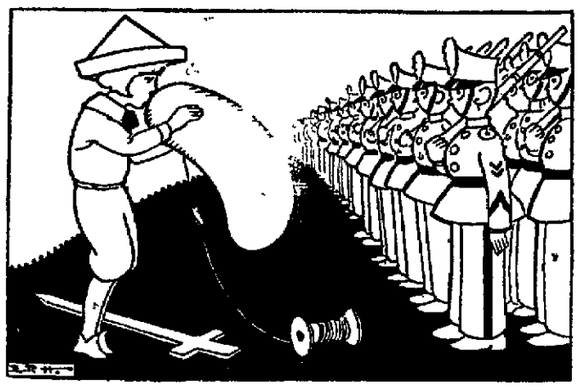

But the sharp "chip, chip," of the call note which the red bird uses and which seems to come from way down in his throat, he has never been able to imitate It was while watching the red bird and calling to him that Little Boy discovered the nestful of eggs in the vines.

It wasn't more than four feet from the ground and he could see into the nest quite plainly The father bird seemed to understand that the boy meant no harm, but he was careful to keep out of reach himself. Little Boy also was careful, and because he never attempted to touch the eggs or bother the birds, he was permitted to watch the little family grow, until they left the nest in May.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

The Army Balloon.

Nick blew up the balloon.

General Nick looked in every direction through his spy glasses for the enemy. But no enemy was in sight in Bing-Bang Land.

"We'll have to send up a blimp and look for the tin soldiers," he said to Colonel Stiff Leg, an officer in the wooden army.

"What's a blimp, sir" asked the Colonel respectfully

"Don't you know?" asked General Nick in surprise. "It's a balloon that stands still in the air. Whoever is in it can see over the whole country, find out what the enemy is doing and drop down notes to tell us'

"A very good idea" nodded Colonel Stiff Leg approvingly. 'But I believe we have no balloons '

"Then I'll send a messenger back to the Tinker Man" said Nick "He has all sorts of things. Who is willing to go?" he asked the army.

"I'll go," said a private, stepping out of the ranks "Maybe I'll win a medal for bravery '

"Good," said Nick. 'Perhaps you will" So he wrote a note quickly and handed it to the brave wooden soldier, who stuck it in his breast pocket.

"If you get hurt I'll come and get you in my ambulance, called Nancy.

Away went the soldier while the army stood and waited.

After while he came back all out of breath, with a bundle under his arm. "Here it is, sir," he said, saluting "I had to pass a regiment of tin machine-gunners, two regiments of cavalry and three of artillery. But although they shot at me with everything they had, they didn't hit me"

'Bravo'" cried Nick "I'll pin three medals on you for that'" Which he did

Nick blew up the balloon and tied it to a tree so it couldn't float away. It was gray and shaped like a sausage, as war balloons are

"Now, who will go up and see what the enemy is doing?" asked Nick.

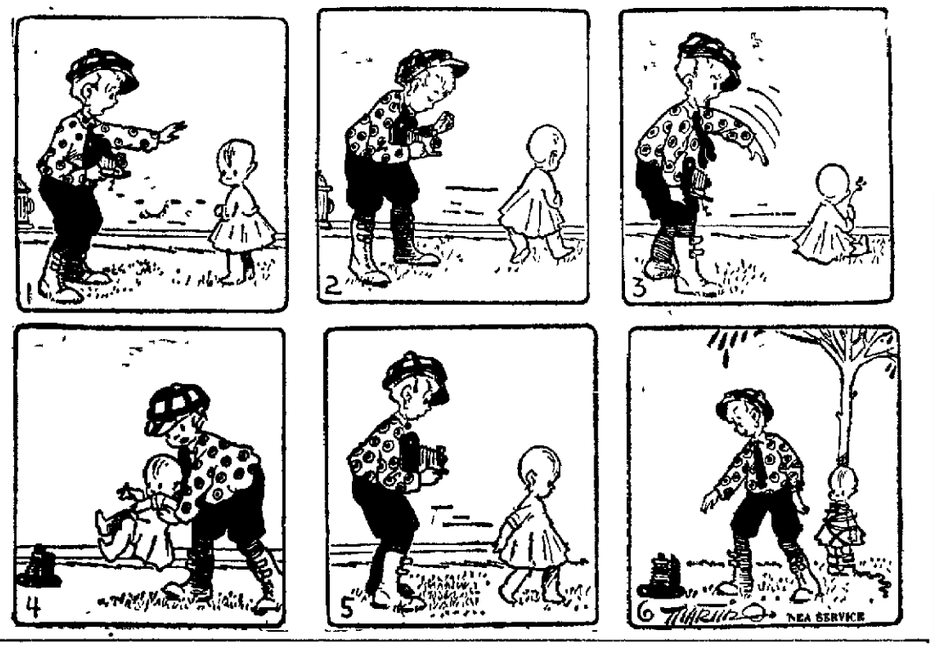

Private Ram Rod stepped out and saluted "I will, sir'

He jumped on and Nick let out the string until the balloon was high over the treetops

Partisan Politics In Municipal Elections

Democrats Clean Platter in Shelbyville—Republican Elected in Pana—No Sunday Movies in Mt. Auburn.

Central Illinois cities and towns voted heavily in Tuesday's municipal elections, though in some places there were no contests and no outstanding issues. Here and there some question of local public policy held the boards, and in a few places the "K. K. K." bogie was injected into the campaign, while in others law and order became an issue.

DEFEAT SUNDAY MOVIES.

In the election in Mt. Auburn the dominant issue was Sunday movies or no Sunday movies, and by vote of the people the picture theaters will be closed on the Sabbath.

In some places the issue was on a strict partisan lines, the fight being between the Republican and Democratic parties. In Shelbyville the entire Democratic ticket was elected, displacing a Republican mayor and some Republican aldermen. In Taylorville Truman Hobson was re-elected mayor, and in Pana the Democratic incumbent, T. J. Vidler, lost to E. O. Johnson, the Republican candidate.

The results of the election in many cities and towns follow:

TUSCOLA.

Tuscola, April 18—The Tuscola city election was rather a quiet affair in the earlier part of the day though somewhat of a skirmish developed in the afternoon. Previous to the day of the election there had been no Democratic candidates in the field, except in the first ward, where Fred B. Rose was candidate for alderman on the Democratic ticket, in opposition to A. A. Cedusky. Charles K. Moorehead was the Republican nominee for mayor with no opposing candidate. On Tuesday afternoon, however, some of the citizens thinking the city election was being pulled off in too tame a manner, decided to have another candidate for mayor. M. C Jones was put into the race and polled half as many votes as Mr. Moorehead

The newly elected city officers are: Mayor Charles K. Moorehead; city clerk, George Coley; treasurer, Fred Haney; alderman, first ward, Fred B. Rose; alderman, second ward Claude Hoel; alderman, third ward R. J. N Johnson

PANA.

Pana, April 18—The election Tuesday resulted in the election of E. G. Johnson for mayor of Pana for the ensuing two years, by a majority of 101 votes over T. J. Vidler the present incumbent The election was one of the most spirited elections held in Pana for years. The following is the vote: Johnson, 1016; Vidler, 916. City clerk, Harry Stanton, no opposition; treasurer—Fred Seiler, 998, Democrat; Orr Pierpoint, Republican, 856; aldermen—first ward, Julius Keefer R., 311; Charles Wilson 266; second ward, Charles Barnett, 310 John Abrell, D., 211, third ward, Fred Jewett, 264 H C Newcomb, D., 260 fourth ward, Joe Urban, R., 75, Oscar Jolly, 143; Joe Wullner, 159; fifth ward H A Koogle, R., 126; Frank Davis, D., 148

The new council will stand four Republicans three Democrats and one Socialist. Mr. Johnson being alderman in the second ward will be compelled to resign and inasmuch as it is less than one year the mayor will have privilege of appointing a man to fill the vacancy, and it is presumed that he will appoint a Republican, and that being the case the Republicans will no doubt have five aldermen to their credit.

THE ISSUE.

The principal issue in the election Tuesday was the enforcement of the law. Last year, Mayor Vidler put the matter square up to the churches, gave them the privilege of appointing their chief of police and other officers and when they named them, he appointed them, but they claimed that the mayor did not see that the law was enforced.

On the other hand Mayor Vidler claimed that inasmuch as they wanted their own officers, it was the duty of the citizenship to see that the officers were given assistance in this line, and he claimed that they did not do so. The new officials' administration will be watched with interest.

In the closing days of the campaign the law and order issue was raised, and a mass meeting with this as its order of business was held Friday night. On Sunday ministers of the churches addressed their congregations on the matter, declaring that the new electric light plant and other issues of like character could be taken care of later by the citizens, but that the matter of law and order must be decided at the polls. FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS— TAG ISN'T TELLING. —By Blosser

SEE WHAT YOU AGREED TO, WHEN YOU SAID, "YES!"

Colorado Springs, Colo.— Married bliss? Bah! A myth. A delusion.

You married women who think you are happy, listen to Miss Elizabeth Beischner, blissfully single, secretary of the conventions bureau of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce. Miss Beischner has reduced married life down to a discouraging array of figures to prove it is just one long round of planning and cooking meals and washing dishes.

"Yes, I realize that the average person eats only three meals a day," she says. "But there are 365 days in the year. That means 1095 meals a year.

"Oh drab day when you were wed! Think of 1095 meals a year—and the utensils and dishes and silverware to wash and wipe! If you can't summon up courage enough to think of this heap of greasy housework you contracted for yourself on your wedding day, Miss Beischner does it for you. Look at her figures:

"In preparing meals you use at least six kettles a day. That's 2190 greasy pots to clean a year.

"In cooking you need about four utensils a meal, or 4380 a year. Let alone extra paraphernalia.

"Why didn't you think of this before you said, 'Yes!'"

But, Miss Beischner goes on.

"For the average family of four figuring conservatively, there are the following dishes and silverware to wash and wipe.

12 pieces of silver . . . 1,140 a year
20 pieces of china . . . 21,900 a year

Total . . . 35,040
Grand total . . . 41,610 pots kettles

MISS BELSCHNER

dishes and silverware to wash and wipe—not to mention utensils and cover extra."

Don't think from this that Miss Beischner is a man-hater. She meets thousands of prominent men, but, she adds, there are mighty few of these she'd care to prepare meals for if she had to wash the dishes.

SOVIET TO CLOSE PRIVATE BANKS

Vladivostok—M. Karlin, new commissariat of finance in the Far East who has just arrived here from Moscow, has issued a statement explaining that he will be held responsible for reconstructing Siberian finances according to the Soviet principles and also announcing that he has been instructed to levy and collect taxes both direct and indirect.

"Besides this," he added, "I am entrusted with the task of liquidating all former banking establishments. Among the banks which are to be liquidated are the local state bank, all joint-stock banks, and societies for mutual credit. The latter, if found necessary, will be allowed to continue their work, but only after their reconstruction on Soviet principles. Another thing which it is necessary to do is to clear up the character of the work done by the foreign banks established here and to define their position. For this purpose I am going to summon a meeting of all government, commercial and private trade organizations in order to work out a plan under which the work of these banks here may be desirable.

FLOAT GOLD LOAN

"The most important task at present is the floating of an internal gold loan. The first bread loan surpassed our most optimistic expectations and will be repeated in the course of this year. We are also floating a lottery loan in gold which we think will be very profitable.

"No new taxes will be introduced and no special changes will be made in the tax system. Our main object is to get arrears of taxation and in gathering these we shall always keep in view that we are dealing with wealthy people.

"All private banks will be liquidated and the question of foreign banks will be settled by Moscow and I shall meanwhile only watch over their operations."

D. A. R. HONORS ITS FORMER OFFICERS

Washington, April 18—Memorial services for former officers and members of the Daughters of the American Revolution who died during the past year were held Tuesday as part of the annual congress of the organization. Among those eulogized by Mrs. George Maynard Minor, President-general and other speakers, was Mrs. Mary Smith Lockwood, one of the founders of the organization, whose death occurred last fall.

Part of the day was devoted to reports of committees and national officers while the evening was given over to a reception. A number of state delegations held meetings to decide what candidates they would support in the election which will be held Thursday.

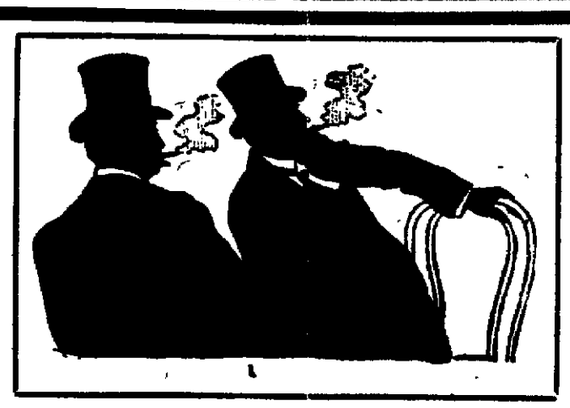

DEATHS.

LUCILE HELM.

The funeral of Lucile Helm will be held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the residence, 1504 North Broadway.

He Liked the Prospect.

Denver Farraknet—She—"There isn't a single man that I really care for."
He—"That's all right. I'm married myself, we sit down."

Gentlemen who smoke the SIR GODFREY CIGAR are never wrong in their judgment as to what a well-bred man should smoke.

Not too strong; not too mild; but just right.

STOCK MARKET IS UNCHANGED

Moderate Reaction Follows Hour of Early Buying.

BY STUART P. WEST.

(Copyright 1923)

New York, April 18— There was very little change in the character of the stock market today from that of previous days.

An hour or so of active buying was followed in the latter half of the day by a moderate reaction in some directions and rather less activity in the list as a whole. But the essential point was that the upward tendency was predominant as it has been now for nearly a week.

NOT MERE RETREAT

The time has passed for ascribing the movement to a mere retreat of an over extended short interest. It has amply justified the statement made repeatedly since the first of the month that the decline in the last fortnight of March corrected the excesses of the winter's speculative campaign and gave opportunity for pools and strong financial interests to buy back the great many stocks which were distributed during the excited advance of five and six weeks ago.

OIL SHARES RECOVER.

Oil shares appeared to have got over the shock occasioned by the price cutting of a week ago and there were sharp rallies in stocks like Marland and Phillips Petroleum which had suffered the most during the recent decline.

Sugar stocks were taken up following developments in the trade including a further advance in refined sugar prices and the continuance of heavy export business in raw sugar at the six cent level. The largest trading was in Cuban-American and Punta Alegre but American Sugar and American Beet Sugar appeared more prominently.

DUPONT JUMPS

Dupont stock had another remarkable jump completing a rise of 25 points within the past week. This is ascribed wholly to the prospects which this company has of getting a larger revenue out of its General Motor holdings. General Motors itself ran into offerings at 17½ that were heavy enough to check the advance.

The statement by the president of United States Rubber that the tire business had been exceptionally good during the first quarter and that the demand for mechanical goods had also increased, caused some fresh buying in U. S. Rubber and Kelly Springfield. The pool in Hayes Wheel succeeded in putting its specialty to a new high. Auto Knitter continued to discount a dividend declaration, which it is said, will be at the rate of $3 before the end of the month.

Steel shares, especially the so-called independents, attracted buying on the strength of the anticipated favorable earnings results for the first quarter which are due at any time now.

BOND QUOTATIONS SLIGHTLY HIGHER

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES.

(Copyright 1923)

New York, April 18—Bond quotations in general were slightly higher today although feeling was no more optimistic as to the long range outlook than before.

There was no important change in the money market. Inquiry for good short term securities continued.

United States government bonds were mostly lower perhaps reflecting the belief that the secretary of the treasury will be obliged to pay a high rate on any obligations offered in connection with meeting the maturities next month of the victory 4¾ per cent notes.

All the foreign issues were firm and in some instances strong. French bonds held around yesterday's level. It was pointed out today that where a foreign bond was dealt in both in the London and New York market the London price was invariably higher. Japanese issues were relatively the strongest among the foreign bonds today, the City of Tokio 5's making a new high for the year.

CANNED GOODS.

San Francisco, April 18—A survey of practically all of the large fruit canners shows that they will be little affected by the big jump in price of refined sugar. Contracts were made by the large concerns considerably in advance of the initial increase but unless the price recedes before the fruit canning season starts several of the smaller canners in the San Francisco Bay district will not operate this year.

MACHINERY.

Springfield, Mass., April 18— The American Bosch Magneto company, manufacturers of magnetos and starting and lighting systems for automobiles is operating at about sixty per cent of capacity today.

LIVE STOCK.

Ft. Worth, April 18— Texas will produce a normal calf crop this year, according to reports from all sections of the state today. Later in the spring heavy marketing of old cows is expected. All cattle raisers are expected to build up their herds and the culling process will be carried out in nearly every instance.

POULTRY.

Philadelphia, April 18— The state bureau of foods reports an increase of two million pounds in the poultry in storage here today as compared with a year ago. Over five million pounds of poultry and 521,688 dozen eggs are in warehouses here.

COTTON.

Oklahoma City, April 18— Cotton planting has progressed fairly well throughout the southern part of this state and will begin generally within the next week.

FISH.

Portland, Oregon, April 18—Salmon buyers are eagerly seeking to contract for the new pack and this is forcing the general trend of prices upward. Prices for new pack are $1.25 for pinks, $1.20 for chums and $1.40 for medium reds. One local company has refused an order for 15,000 cases at $1.25 for pinks for export.

GROCERIES.

Salina, Kas., April 18— Improvement in the wholesale grocery business and the manufacturers of work garments is indicated by announcement of a dividend by the H. D. Lean Mercantile company, which operates plants here and throughout the east.

WHEAT.

Topeka, April 17—The Kansas wheat crop is estimated today by state experts at 133,883,928 bu. from 9,443,243 acres.

AUTOMOBILES.

Detroit, April 17—The Paige-Detroit company has given up its truck manufacturing business and is now confining its truck activities entirely to making service parts for the Paige trucks already built. The truck plant is gradually being transformed for the manufacture of Jewett cars.

CLOTHING.

New Orleans, April 17—The unseasonably cool weather has had a deterrent effect on retail buying of men's clothing but merchants declared today they expected the volume of business to make up for this early dullness within the next two weeks.

LUMBER.

Seattle, April 17—Saw mills throughout the Puget Sound and Columbia River districts are operating three shifts of 8 hours each. Stocks in eastern yards are today reported to be very small and foreign demand is heavy.

POTATOES.

Ft. Worth, April 17—Sweet potato curing plants in this section have exported large quantities of their product since March 1. The price today ranges around $1.10 per bushel.

GRAIN.

St. Louis, April 17—Unfavorable weather conditions have retarded grain crops which are below normal.

FRUIT.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 17—Peach, plum and cherry orchards and fields have suffered considerably from the cold March and April weather. The indications point to a smaller fruit crop.

WOOL.

Boston, April 18—Buying of the new wool clip by eastern houses is progressing steadily. It is estimated that five million pounds have been taken by eastern buyers in the last few days.

Purchases for the season exceed 30,000,000 pounds. This is but a small percentage of the entire domestic clip which is estimated this year at around 235,000,000 pounds.

KING ONION SETS ALL NEW RECORDS

Seasonal Output Fills About 20,200 Cars.

Chicago, April 18.—All previous records for onion shipments were broken this season, the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimated today.

The end of the old onion season is near. Shipments have been gradually decreasing to one hundred cars a week and within a short time the old onions will be supplanted by the new crop from the early producing states.

Within the past week the bulk of old supplies came from storage from New York, most of the mid-western stock having been cleaned up.

FILL 20,200 CARS.

The seasonal output for the fourteen late or main crop states has filled about 20,200 cars. That total exceeds last season's by 6,800 cars and is 1,300 more than the 1920-1921 season, which set the highest previous record.

Indiana and Ohio were the heavy shippers this season, sending 4,575 and 4,450 cars, respectively. For Indiana that was an increase of about 150 per cent over last season and one-third more than 1920-1921. For Ohio, it was a gain of 156 per cent over the 1921-1922 season and nearly forty per cent more than two years ago.

NEW YORK SHORT.

New York shipped fewer onions than during either of the last two seasons, the total April 14 being about 3,675 cars. Massachusetts, with 1,230 cars, showed an increase of eighteen per cent from last year. Michigan marketed four times as many onions as last season, the total reaching 1,750 cars. Colorado shipments increased to nearly 700 cars, but the northern California output was only 2,300 cars, much less than the last two seasons.

Delayed shipments of spring onions kept up the price for old northern stock. The prevailing price for mid-western yellows was $3.50 to $4.50 per hundred pounds, but eastern stock ran slightly less. The change in seasons brought further reductions to storage supplies of old stocks, while spring vegetables and berries from the south moved in heavier volumes.

OLD POTATOES.

The movement of old potatoes held at about nine hundred cars a day. Supplies of new stocks were limited.

More than half the week's cabbage shipments came from South Carolina. That state's Wakefield cabbage advanced seventy-five cents to $1.25 a barrel crate in Philadelphia and Baltimore, but sold at lower rates in other markets.

DRY GOODS.

New York, April 18—Little interest was shown by buyers in today's dry goods markets. A strong cotton market at the opening gave some hope that conditions in that commodity would settle down with the resultant good it would give the Worth street trade but there was an uncertainty that made for little business. There was some trading in small lots again today with combed yarn cloths and two or three numbers of bag sheetings leading the sales. There was again no change in prices for 64x60's.

The raw silk market was somewhat more active at higher levels than had been noted for several days. Prices were up from five to ten points all down the line. Yokohama was firm and active.

COTTON MARKET IN 30-POINT DROP

BY GEORGE D. MOULSON.

New York, April 18—An opening advance in cotton today attracted quite heavy selling not only by those who bought earlier in the week and desired to take profits, but by buyers at higher levels last week who took advantage of a better basis to lighten their load. This turned an advance of nearly 20 points in July into a decline of 30 points before midday, all buying orders being readily absorbed on the setback.

New crops opened higher but there, too, heavier selling occurred despite an unfavorable weekly weather report. Low temperatures still prevail over the cotton belt with scattered showers quite general east of the river.

For those looking for a good start this year the progress of planting and germination as reflected in the weekly weather bureau documents proved far from encouraging. Conditions were described as poor over a large area and while fair progress occurred during the week in some sections, details as furnished by the various state reports were not of a character to justify confidence that the crop is beginning well. A general feeling seems to prevail in many speculative circles however that better progress will soon be possible and this attitude accounts for the action of the market.

Financial Notes.

New York, April 18—The net income of White Eagle Oil for the first quarter was $780,000 as compared with $468,716 for the same period last year.

New York bank clearings $722,000,000. New York bank balances $79,000,000. New York Federal Reserve bank credits $83,000,000. Boston bank clearings $75,000,000.

PRICES STILL RUN STRONG

Rising Tendency Continues —Railway Shares Are Active.

New York, April 18—The rising tendency of prices continued throughout the morning. Signs of increased public participation, particularly in the railroad shares, led to extensive short selling in some of the stocks which recently had been under marked pressure. Oils were again the center of speculative activity but a good inquiry also developed for a number of other popular industrial issues.

Stocks of eastern lines made the most progress in the railroad group with the Reading, New Haven and Delaware and Hudson up one to two points, as the outstanding strong spots. Canadian Pacific also was heavily bought, rising two points. Dupont sold 6½ points above yesterday's closing price and Atlas Powder five; United Railways investment preferred 3; Marland Oil 2¾ and Tidewater Oil 2. Call money opened at five per cent

CORN AND WHEAT DOWN ONE CENT

Butterfat Also One Cent Lower—Poultry Unchanged.

Both corn and wheat declined one cent a bushel Wednesday, wheat dropping to $1.07 and corn to seventy cents. Reports from abroad that Russia is exporting grain helped to weaken the general tone of the market.

Butterfat declined one cent a pound but poultry remained unchanged. The egg market is barely steady to weaker and with the growing volume of receipts lower prices are looked for. Poultry is fairly firm on the absorption of offerings, particularly in the industrial centers.

Price Current

Chicago, April 18—Indications are 4 to 5 million acres winter wheat will be abandoned this year unless there is a quick change in general conditions. Greatest losses will be in northwestern section of Oklahoma, western third of Kansas and parts of western and central Nebraska. Less in dry territory of two former states and in western Nebraska will be very heavy, regardless of weather conditions from now on, as it seems too late for moisture to have more effect. General condition is somewhat less than normal. This season of the year, after making the correction grossly due to the elimination of the abandoned acreage.

MUST INSPECT 50,000,000 EGGS

Chemist Praises Pure Gelatine and Nutritive Food Value.

BY J. C. ROYLE.

(Copyright, 1923)

New York, April 18—How would you like to be responsible for the rigid inspection of 50,000,000 eggs a year? That is a part of the stupendous job which has fallen to Dr Clarke Davis, chief chemist of the National Biscuit company. He is the doctor who prescribes all the ingredients that go into the toothsome cookies and crackers consumed by millions of people throughout the United States every year.

"In the last five years," said Dr. Davis today, "there has been much advancement in methods of food preparation. Many people have an idea that gelatine is not high in food value. That is not the case, Pure gelatine is exceptionally high in nutritive value. It took us five years to produce gelatine that would contain the most nourishing elements and that would be free from the deletrious substances so commonly found in this product. The National Biscuit company now uses about 600,000 pounds of gelatine a year because people have come to like marshmallow coating on sweet cookies. Pure marshmallow contains nothing but pure water, sugar and the best of gelatine.

CONSUME THIRTY TONS.

"Peculiarly enough, since wartime there has been an unceasing demand for sweet crackers, sugar wafers and bakers products generally. We consume in our plants about thirty tons of pure chocolate a day to say nothing of the great amount of sugar, flavoring extracts and molasses used.

"My work is a good deal like that of a doctor. I prescribe the specifications and exact measure of the different things that go to make up our vast line of crackers, biscuits and wafers, just as a doctor gives a prescription for a medicine or a diet.

SCIENTIFICALLY SAVED.

"We found by scientific investigation that eggs placed in cold storage deteriorated despite the most exact scientific care given them. To overcome this deterioration and so as always to have an absolutely fresh supply of eggs at all times we developed a bacteriological process of sterilizing the eggs and freezing them automatically after they are taken from the freshly broken shells.

"Skillfully developed machinery and absolute unison of handling has made it possible to keep our eggs absolutely free from contamination and deterioration. Three tests are applied to assure this result.

"Constantly we are called upon to supervise, classify and measure for specification, flour produced in all parts of the country. The average house wife does not now that flour runs in two grades, hard and soft The experiments and tests we have made show that the most luscious of gingerbread is made from soft flour and that hard flour makes the best soda biscuits and products of that character.

WHEAT CLOSE IS UNSETTLED

Buying Orders Dwindle and Declines Ensue in Market.

Chicago, April 18—Buying orders dwindled, and declines ensued in the wheat market today after July delivery had touched a new high price record for the season. The close was unsettled, ⅝@1⅛c net lower, with May $1.25@½ and July $1.23⅛@¼.

Absence of any signs of important new export business acted somewhat as a weight on the market in the last half of the day.

The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to half cent off, with May $1.25½ to ⅝ and July $1.23½ to ¾, was followed by a slight general sag and then by a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats awayed with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅛c lower, May 79¾ to 80c, the corn market underwent a little further decline and then scored fair gains.

Liquidating sales on the part of scattered longs were in evidence later. The close was weak, ⅝@1⅛c net lower, May 78¾@79c.

Oats started at ⅛@⅜c off, to ⅛c up, May 45⅝ to ⅝c and later showed an advance for all deliveries.

Provisions lacked support.

LIVE STOCK IN GOOD SESSION

Beef Steers Up Quarter—Hogs Hold Steady—Sheep Demand Fair.

BY L. C. GRUNDELAND.

(Copyright, 1923.)

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, April 18.—Light runs of cattle and hogs were reported at the local yards today. In the sheep house the supply was larger than expected. More than 3,000 lambs were received by big killers from other trading points, however, and the market showed fair action. Sellers had about 13,000 hogs held over from yesterday. Nearly all of the reported 774 cars of live stock had arrived at the opening of the trade. No California spring lambs arrived during the day.

Receipts were 8,000 cattle, 24,000 hogs, 21,000 sheep and 2,500 calves.

STEERS GAIN.

Cattle: Best beef steers were in good demand, and values were up 15@25c in many spots. Medium grade steers also were strong to higher. Choice heavy steers sold at $10.15, with some yearlings at $10.00@10.10. Bulk of beef steers went at $8.50@9.60. Cows and heifers found a good outlet. Here prices also were up 15@25c in many cases. Chicago, April 18—Joseph Brown, 1213 North Dearborn street, was fined $100 yesterday for carrying concealed weapons.

His wife had caused his arrest Monday night after he had threatened to kill her and himself unless she returned to him. Mrs. Brown led her husband into Holmes' cafe, 17 West Division street, and gave him the baby to hold while she managed to convey a message to a waiter to send for the police. She was convinced that he intended to kill her.

Brown pleaded in the Chicago avenue court that he had only intended to frighten her and he was permitted to go with payment of the fine.

Regular Readers Are Regular Boosters!

It's interesting to point out to people the many different ways in which The Review's A-B-C Classified Ads can save their time and energy and money.

We tell them that in buying and selling—from automobiles to merchandise and real estate—these little catalogued ads spell satisfaction.

We tell them that in the employment field—whether it's finding help or a position—these ads spell service.

We tell them that when it comes to business service, or instruction, or financial openings—The Review's A-B-C Ads spell opportunity.

But what we enjoy telling them most of all is just this—"don't take our word on these things, but ask some regular reader of the A-B-C Ads!"

Then we know—and they know—that we're talking facts. And they'll know what we know—that regular readers are regular boosters of these little ads.

POLICE COMMISSION TO NAME CHIEF

Elder Has Made No Promises of Place.

COUNSEL UNDECIDED

Mayor-Elect Has Made No Arrangements.

"That I suppose, will be up to the new police and firemen's commission," said Elmer Elder, mayor-elect, when asked if he had anything to say about who will be chief of police under the new administration.

"I can truthfully say that I have talked with no one about this appointment and I rather think that it will be up to the police commission anyway. I have not looked into the powers of the commission but I think that any appointments which may be made by me will be only temporary until the commission goes into office in June.

CORPORATION COUNSEL

"I have not thought about the matter of the corporation counsel nor have I spoken to anyone for that place.

"I certainly appreciate the fine support that I have received and I will do my best to give Decatur the service which such a city deserves."

A love feast was held in Mr. Elder's office Wednesday forenoon, there being hundreds of callers.

DAN DINNEEN HAS NO REGRETS; THANKS WORKERS

"I have no regrets for myself," said Dan Dinneen, who was defeated Tuesday in the race for mayor. "I made a hard, honest fight, and the vote I received was much greater than I expected. As a matter of fact, no one dreamed the total vote would be so enormous.

"If I have any regret at all it is on account of the disappointment to the host of loyal friends who worked so hard and so unselfishly in my behalf. I will always feel that I owe them a debt of gratitude. I only consented to become a candidate after repeated urging, and my fondest hope did not anticipate such a big vote as I received. If I had had 100 more cars and as many more workers I don't believe I could have received more votes.

LOYAL WORKERS

"A candidate never had a more loyal and unselfish host of workers than men and women. It will be impossible for me to see and personally thank each of them, however much I would like to do so; but I want them to know that I am grateful.

"I wish the new mayor and commissioners the greatest measure of success and my own efforts in the future, as in the past, will always be for the best interests of Decatur, under any administration."

CANDIDATES LOSE ONE GOOD VOTE

Five hard-working and deserving candidates were robbed of one perfectly good vote each in the Fifth precinct Tuesday morning and one perfectly good voter was disfranchised as far as this election is concerned by the heedlessness of one of the election officers in this precinct. He is a young voter and he admits that he had a bit of stage fright when he faced the battery of election officers in the polling place.

He gave his name and place of residence according to form and was then handed three ballots. He retired to a booth, spread out his ballots on the shelf and proceeded to exercise his newly-acquired right of suffrage. He found that he had three little ballots.

There was no ballot for mayor and commissioner. It didn't seem quite right to him but he assumed that the man who had handed him the ballots knew what he was about. Anyway, he felt that it would ill become him, a newly-fledged voter, to go out and make a fuss about it. So he marked the fire and police board ballot, the new territory ballot, handed them to a judge and saw them dropped into the ballot box.

After he went out he began to gather his wits and to realize that he had lost his vote.

ELECTION NOTES

No. 1 precinct at 264 North Park street was the first to report on the mayor, the return being received by the Election Bureau at 5:52. This precinct was also first with the complete ballot.

Precinct No. 12 at Lincoln school was the last finished. The returns were complete at 2:10. One of the clerks collapsed here after the count was started and when a substitute was provided the count was started over.

When the returns from the first four precincts to report were received the word went out that Elder was elected.

"Looks like a good commission," was the most frequent comment made on the streets Wednesday as the result of the election Tuesday. "Those five men seem to be practical, solid, capable fellows. They may not be strong on oratory but they do appear to be men who will take hold and do things. And that is what we want."

"There isn't much new to say," said Commissioner Harry Ruthrauff, when he was asked Wednesday what he had to say about his re-election. "Of course I appreciate very much the support which I have received. I think we have a council which can work well together."

"I will try to repay in service to the community the great honor that it has conferred on me," said Tom Pitner, newly elected commissioner. "A man finds a lot of new friends as well as a lot of old ones in such a campaign."

"All of the many years of experience which I have gained in the city service will be valuable to me now and will be gladly placed by me into the benefit of my new place," said Arthur L. McNabb, former city comptroller and elected Tuesday to a commissionership. "I certainly appreciate the great vote that I received."

In the seventeenth precinct it is reported that at least forty ballots carried a vote for mayor and one for Van Praag with no other vote.

More negro women voted Tuesday, it is said, that have ever voted before in Decatur.

It is much to the credit of Decatur that such a record breaking vote could be cast here with no incidents of disorder and very few of bad temper.

In the first precinct one man who was carrying more liquor than was good for him insisted on trying to vote three times and he had to be removed finally after a fourth attempt but even then with good humor by the patient election officials.

Occasionally an enthusiastic worker would get within the 100 foot limits but usually a word spoken by an official caused the worker to get outside the limits.

VAN PRAAG NOT TO CONTEST ELECTION

Congratulates Tom Pitner On Election.

"Congratulations, Tom," said Alex Van Praag, defeated candidate for reelection, as he entered the office of Tom Pitner, the successful candidate, who won over Mr. Van Praag by thirty-six votes, Wednesday morning.

"I don't know of anyone whom I would have have beat me than you."

PITNER APPRECIATIVE.

Mr. Pitner expressed his appreciation of the good wishes of the defeated candidate and then turned to Sam Wilson, street superintendent, who was with his chief, and said:

"Tell that boy of yours that I am ready to caddy that golf game for him. That will redeem the only promise I made during the campaign. I agreed, if I was elected, that I would be his caddy on a round of golf at Nelson park as he had been mine several times."

NO CONTEST.

"There will be no contest" said Mr. Van Praag in reply to a question asked about a subject which had already been discussed about town because of the closeness of the vote.

"The only contest is before the election, not after it. There will be none here. I just want to say—congratulations, my boy—and good luck in your new office."

"I also want to say how much I appreciate the support of more than 9,000 voters of Decatur."

HAS TAKEN IN HUNDRED DOGS

Dog Catcher Makes Another Haul Tuesday.

William Price, the dog-catcher, hauled in another load of dogs Tuesday. This makes about 100 since he opened his campaign. He keeps the dogs five days and if the owner does not call for them he kills them. He, therefore, never has very many on hand at one time.

D. H. S. TO DEBATE WITH SPRINGFIELD

To Argue "Subsidizing Merchant Marine."

GOOD HEALTH WEEK

Special Observance to Be Made in School.

Arguing the negative side of the question, "Resolved that the United States should subsidize the merchant marine," D. H. S. debaters will meet the Springfield High School debating outfit in the D. H. S. auditorium Friday evening April 27.

D. H. S. supporters have been itching for another chance at their old rival ever since the Capitol city speakers won a decision from the local speakers during the first semester of school. While the debate on the subsidy question will not be a dual affair, it will give the D. H. S. crowd a chance to even up scores and should draw a great deal of interest.

O. S. Hubbart announced Wednesday that the following would comprise his selection for the Springfield contest: Rassele Swarthout, Allen Jones, and Sydney Rosenthau Swarthout and Jones are both familiar faces among D. H. S. debaters, Sydney Rosenthau is taking his first plunge at D. H. S. debating.

GOOD HEALTH WEEK.

Good Health Promotion and Safety week is to be observed at the high school April 22 to 28. A committee is at work preparing a very interesting program to be carried out during the week.

One of the features of the week's program is a contest being conducted by the Home Economics Department in public speaking. A prize of five dollars is offered by the department for the best speech delivered on any of a series of subjects to be selected and posted by a committee of the faculty. The speech must be not more than six minutes in length and any student of the high school is eligible.

An elimination contest will be held early in the week, and the three survivors of this contest will meet before the auditorium assembly Wednesday for final honors.

COLLECT FOR DECANOIS.

Collection of pledges for the '23 "Decanois", the high school annual, was launched at the high school this week by the business manager Jimmy Rattan. Collections are being pushed hard as it is necessary that all money be paid in for pledges before a single copy of the publication can be given out. The price is $1.50. The "Dec" will probably be out by the first of June.

The business manager announces that all money for pledges held by outsiders should be addressed to James A. Rattan, Decatur High School. Any person wishing to secure a copy of the annual may do so by sending in their money to this address.

MISS NIELSON READS.

Miss Hortense Nielson, impersonator and reader, entertained the students of the high school Wednesday for a fifty minute auditorium period reading two very pleasing selections. The first selection given by Miss Nielson was "As You Like It," by Shakespeare. The second number was the last scene of John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln."

Both numbers were greatly enjoyed by the students especially just at this time when so many of the high school are busy preparing orations and readings for presentment in the various inter-scholastic contests.

LINCOLN CIRCUIT MARKER ARRIVES

To Be Placed On County Line May 1.

The long expected county line marker for the Lincoln Circuit arrived in Decatur Tuesday. This is to be placed on the road from Decatur to Sullivan and on the Macon-Moultrie county line east of Mt. Zion. The exact location will be determined by the county superintendent of highways and the supervisor from that township.

Mrs. E. L. Pegram who represents locally the Lincoln Circuit says that the marker probably will be placed about May 1. There will be no ceremonies for the placing or dedication of this marker. After the circuit is completely marked there probably will be some dedicatory ceremonies conducted by the association.

The county line marker is of ornamental concrete and it came in three rather heavy crates. The inscription is on a bronze plate attached to the marker. The Christian-Macon county marker will be placed by Christian county. After the markers have been placed so that there is no question as to the route the roads will be marked. These marks will be painted on telephone polls and will consist of a white circle with a flag-blue border and inside the circle the inscription, "Lincoln Circuit," in flag blue letters.

Asks Divorce.

Carrie McGowin has filed a bill for divorce from Frank McGowin. They were married Oct. 15, 1906, and lived together till April 10, 1921. She charges him with desertion.

A DECATUR FABLE

Bloomington Pantagraph: Once upon a time something went wrong down in Decatur, and they called in specialists in diseases of municipalities. For once the specialists agreed. Decatur was like a boy who is growing too fast. It had spread out over a vast amount of territory, and they declared its water works and sewer system were inadequate. Then they called a meeting of the citizenry to talk over the matter. And the experts said "you haven't enough water to supply the city and carry off your sewage." Then the citizenry asked the specialists how they could get it, and the specialists said they must impound the water which the Sangamon is in the habit of carrying off. Then the citizenry arose as one man and said "Dam the Sangamon." And the newspapers took up the cry and they damned the Sangamon up one side and down the other. And behold, the Sangamon disappeared and in its stead there came Lake Decatur. And the chief scribes of The Herald and The Review went out and inspected and found that it was good. Then The Herald heralded abroad the achievement, and The Review reviewed the feat, and lo, it is known far and wide that Decatur is a summer resort and homes are being built along the borders of the lake, and fish are being planted in the lake, and then, as a crowning feature, Decatur had a boat show, so that the people could decide what kind of craft they desired and now the Decaturites are amphibious, they spend part of their time in their motorboats and part of the time in their automobiles, and all use up gasoline at a terrific rate. And this is what comes from so much "damning the Sangamon." Moral—When you have a good thing, make it better.

W. M. WOOD TO NATIONAL C. OF C.

Is National Counsellor of Body.

W. M. Wood will represent the Decatur Association of Commerce as National Counsellor at the eleventh annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States which meets in New York City May 8 to 10. As National Counsellor Mr. Wood will attend the sessions of the National Chamber of Commerce which are to be held May 7 preceding the meeting of the convention.

The Decatur association is entitled to six delegates and a National Counsellor. Although there have been no delegates selected as yet it is almost certain that some of the Decatur business men will be in New York at that time to represent the local organization. A special invitation to a group of Decatur business men was forwarded to each of the men recently.

The convention will discuss national and international commerce and include in its program talks by some of the greatest commercial experts and business men of the world. In addition a program of entertainment has been arranged for both the visiting men and their wives which will give them an opportunity of seeing the metropolis and points of interest in the surrounding territory.

ATTY. COLEMAN HAS SLEEPING SICKNESS

Has Been Unconscious for Two Weeks.

Attorney W. Thomas Coleman is ill with sleeping sickness at the Decatur and Macon County hospital. He has been ill for the last three weeks. He suffered a nervous breakdown and had symptoms of pneumonia. His condition became a great deal better and he was able to be down town two or three days, but he suffered a relapse and has been unconscious for about two weeks.

SAYS DECATUR HAS 50,000 POPULATION

Figures Based On Tuesday's Election.

Tuesday's election signifies that Decatur is a city of 50,000 population, says J. J. Richeson, superintendent of schools. The rule is that two-fifths of the normal population of a city are voters and five halves of the total vote cast for mayor Tuesday will put the population of this city at something in excess of 50,000.

The fact that perhaps more nearly all of the voters in the city voted than ordinarily does not affect the conclusion. The rule is not that two-fifths of the normal population are people who vote but that they are voters. The fact that, practically all of the voters voted in this election simply affords a solid basis upon which to compute the population. Citizens may now regard Decatur as a city of 50,000 people. And this does not include any outlying territory that belongs to the city but is not yet in the city.

Church Notes

The South West division of the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist church will have an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Tenney, 463 South Monroe street, Thursday. A pot-luck luncheon will be served at noon.

TO MAKE PLANS FOR WABASH VETERANS

Meeting Called for All Now in Decatur.

Just how the old Wabash veterans who gather here for the reunion on May 18, will be provided for, what entertainment will be arranged, and all other details preliminary to the big affair, will now be planned for by the old veterans living here. The Decatur veterans will in a way, be hosts to the out-of-town veterans. So far, work has just been confined to arranging to get the names of all old veterans and invite them to come.

Now other plans must be made right away. For this reason, John Knowlton, who has been working up the plan so far, has called a meeting to be held in the Macon County court room next Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. This meeting is for every veteran who was in the service prior to 1894 whether he is now employed by the company or not. Some definite organization will then be formed.

HIBBARD NOT COMING.

Letters from veterans continue to come in and nearly all of them mention the names of other old timers who had been forgotten. Als omany of them say they hope to come while others send regrets. Local men regret to have word from L. L. Hibbard, general manager of the coast lines of the Santa Fe, saying he will not be able to attend, due to illness. He writes that he is still in the "back shops" (hospital) for repairs and will be unable to come. This former Wabash veteran is now general manager of the coast lines of his road instead of superintendent as was mentioned elsewhere recently.

Another letter from N. B. Whitsel, also an old-time engineer here, suggests that Mr. Knowlton write to George H. Baker, whom Knowlton then recalled as another old engineer. Baker is now president of an organization known as the Railway National Educational association with offices at Brooklyn, N. Y.

J. E. HUFF COMING.

J. E. Huff, now of the Illinois Central clerical forces at Clinton, expects to attend as he is an old veteran, while his father, Date Huff, a old retired engineer, now of Pittsfield, also expects to come.

Much information of a historical nature, especially that in regard to the Lincoln first inaugural train, is to go into the Illinois State Historical Library. John Knowlton is keeping a file of various newspaper clippings and other matter and after the reunion, this stuff will all go into the state library.

New Assignment.

A new general assignment of Wabash 9th and 13th district firemen was made Wednesday morning with very few changes made. In south passenger pool No. 1, Cox caught the turn that had been vacated by Nalefski, who went on the south end work train in the previous assignment. Carmack caught extra passenger and these were the only changes in passenger.

In regular assigned freight, M. Hunter took the Tilton layover of Nos. 70-71 in place of Fitzwater, who did not bid in anything. Fowler got 70-71 south. Decatur layover in place of Cox, Steinlicht took the Taylorville-Stonington switch in place of Kennedy and Henton, the switch local, Tilton layover, in place of Carmack.

McElhaney took the south freight pool turn with Cunningham in place of Rhodes, who caught the south turn with Kendall in place of Fowler. Watz took the south turn with H. Z. Nichols in place of McElhaney. On the east pool, Nalefski took an turn with Neal in place of Henton.

New Floor in Roundhouse.

The Wabash is planning an expense of several thousand dollars in putting in practically a new floor in the roundhouse. The old floor of concrete has been breaking up under the weight of trucks of material being moved over it and in the past few months has almost gone to pieces in many places. Holes were so numerous and deep that it was almost impossible to truck heavy stuff around. It is now planned to use concrete in part of the floor but to probably use wood blocks where the heavy loads of material are pulled around.

Vote Fooled Them.

How the total vote cast in Tuesday's election surprised everyone can be seen in the guesses made by twenty-one employes at the Wabash depot offices. Of the twenty-one guesses made the high guess went to the division accountant with 18,675 or almost three thousand short of the total. Twenty-two others also attempted to guess the five men who would be elected at 10 cents a guess and this was won by Charley Smith, who was the only one to pick the five winners.

Railroad Notes.

The Pennsylvania has changed the colors on its normal night indication dwarf signals from red to purple.

The C. I. and W., owing to a lighter business, has taken off the swing crew that has been working daily between Decatur and Springfield.

Wabash engine No. 712 has returned to the road from the Davenport contract repair shops, where it was overhauled.

Owing to another good turn being put on the Wabash seventh district, this run is up for bids from conductor and brakemen to April 24. A work train to work between Forrest and Bement is also up for bids to that date.

In an assignment of Wabash 9th and 13th district trainment Wednesday noon, Conductor Webber took the Tilton layover of the switch local, and Conductor Hatchett the bumper board. Brakeman Nelson took the head end on the 2213 on the 9th district. Jenkins the rear on the south local, Litchfield layover and Kimber, the head end on Nos. 72-73.

The Wagner Castings company, Lowber and Sangamon street, has started work leveling off the old field at Charles and Sangamon, used for years as a cornfield and will make it into a ball diamond for the use of the company's employes.

The field is just a half block east of the plant and just north of the Wabash. It is about 200 feet wide by about 500 feet long. It is not probable that the field will be fenced in but it will be kept in good condition for the company's team to work out on.

C. W. RILEY TO ADDRESS MEN

Will Speak at Thursday Noon Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

Charles W. Riley, recently returned from Russia with first-hand information regarding conditions in that country, will be the speaker at the regular Thursday noon business men's lunch in the Y. M. C. A. annex.

Mr. Riley is touring the country in the interests of the students and professors in Russian schools and colleges who are struggling for an education against almost overwhelming odds. Clothing sufficient to cover them and keep them warm during the severe winter season is one of their chief needs and Mr. Riley is attempting to secure the support of the people of this country in providing old clothing, of no use to us but invaluable to the Russians, to help them out.

J. M. U. GLEE CLUB TO GO TO MATTOON

To Give Concert There Next Friday.

The Glee Club of the James Millikin University will journey to Mattoon Friday, April 20, where they will appear in concert. Arrangements were made several weeks ago for this trip. Twenty-five men will accompany Director Olds, announced the business manager, Fayette Norwine. The next big event upon the program of the glee club is the home concert on April 27 in the local auditorium.

Practice for the huge gym festival which is to be held on May 4 is progressing splendidly, reported Gus Weber, the director, Wednesday morning. Both the work under Miss Annette Van Dyke with the girls who will dance, and the gymnastic participants are progressing fine. If carried out as intended this spectacle will be one of the finest ever given at Millikin upon such a large scale in mass athletic stunts.

FURNISHING SCHOOL MAY 28-29, JUNE 1

Home Bureau to Bring Miss Wilkerson.

The Home Bureau is arranging for a home furnishing school which will be held in May, probably May 28, 29 and June 1, thus skipping Decoration Day. Miss Mabel Wilkerson, well known to Home Bureau women, a specialist from the University of Illinois will lecture and demonstrate.

Interior decoration will be the subject of the school, and she will discuss the arrangement of furniture, interior decoration, wall papers, and such things as make an attractive home. The places where these schools will be held have not yet been decided upon.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

All Home Bureau advisers of Illinois will go to the University of Illinois, June 14 and 15 for the annual June conference. This is the time when all advisers get together for a discussion of the ways of making the Home Bureau the important thing in the lives of the women that the government intended it should be.

Although Macon county has no adviser at this time every unit is holding its meeting and the work is going forward all over the county. It is particularly noticeable that the membership campaign started in the fall is beginning to reap benefits, and it is almost a daily occurrence now for new members to be reported in at the home office in Decatur.

START WORK ON ROAD TO BRIDGE

Expect City to Assume Its Portion.

Plans for the improvement of the Nelson Park bridge road from the city limits to the bridge have already been started and will go on as rapidly as possible. The plans will be made under the direction of Highway Commissioner Charles Becker who will at once proceed with the survey.

The type of road that is to be built has not been decided upon and probably will not be until the new city council has been organized and can take part in the matter. So far only the township and the county have definitely agreed upon this improvement but it is understood that the city will come in. It is stated that an asphalt surface on a concrete foundation will be considered but the matter of cost will be a determining factor.

J. H. HILL GOES TO CONVENTION

To Preside Over Postmasters in Springfield

Postmaster J. H. Hill, president of the Illinois Postmasters' association, wishes to call attention of all Macon county postmasters that they should leave for Springfield not later than the 8:15 o'clock interurban car Thursday morning. The Decatur postmaster has already gone to Springfield to preside at the state meeting.

The convention opened Wednesday and many notables in the postal service were scheduled to be present including Assistant Postmaster Generals Paul Henderson and W. Irving Glover. The National League of District Postmasters will also gather there at that time.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

One of the big successes of the year at the Y. W. C. A. has been the millinery classes, conducted by Miss Amy Towler. So successful have they been and so full of interest that there is now a demand for the fourth class of this kind. The second class closes April 20, and if enough people sign up for the fourth class this will begin April 27. The third class is still running and will not close until May 8.

Dr. Harriet Day Chandler has called a meeting for 7 o'clock Wednesday evening for all persons interested in the swimming campaign. All the workers, the captains of the Duff family, of the Katzenjammer family and the Andy Gump family, with their lieutenants are expected to be present to discuss some further plans of the campaign.

The Judy Candy company's Ford coupe, stolen Tuesday night, was found Wednesday morning on West Prairie avenue, near the Wabash tracks. Four other Ford coupes are still missing.

MANY MORTGAGES.

Forty-three chattel mortgages were filed for record Tuesday, and nearly all of them were for automobiles purchased on the installment plan. There seems no lack of confidence that the prosperity of the people of Decatur will continue.

Rev. J. W. McDonald left Tuesday evening for Kansas City, where he will address a meeting of the Presbytery Wednesday. He expects to return to Decatur on Thursday morning.

ROADS GOOD.

The road reports say that you can go anywhere you please over earth roads in this part of the state. You may find a rough spot here and there but these are being smoothed out as rapidly as possible. Road drags, levelers, maintainers and graders are busy every where.

PARENTS VISIT CENTRAL J. H.

Mostly Mothers Come to See School Work.

Much interesting information was picked up by the parents who attended the Parents Day at the Central Junior high school Wednesday forenoon. At 11 o'clock more than forty parents, mostly mothers, were in the building visiting the classes. Just the regular classes were in progress and no attempt was made to have any sort of a program. All the attempt made was to have everything perfectly natural. The pupils went about their lessons as usual and the teachers conducted the classes as usual.

At noon all the visiting parents who desired to stay were served lunch in the domestic science rooms on the third floor. A copy of the day's program was furnished to every visitor so that they could see just what classes they wished to attend, the teacher of these classes and room in which they were held.

130 CLASSES.

Among the interesting things which the parents learned Wednesday was that 130 classes were held Wednesday in the Central Junior high school. This includes thirteen 100 minute classes, and 117 classes held for fifty minutes. The total amount of time spent in the classes will total about 108 hours. The attendance at these classes total 3600 pupils during the day, and during the day each teacher has about 130 different pupils.

DEATHS.

LOUISE SMORADA.

Miss Louise Smorada, aged twenty-one years, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Mary's hospital, death being caused by spinal trouble. She had been ill for over a year but had been in the hospital only five weeks.

Before her illness she was employed by the Elgin Watch company at Elgin. She was born in Streator, Sept. 10, 1901. When she was a child, her parents moved to Moweaqua and that was her home until she went to Elgin. Her mother died over a year ago. She is survived by her father, Michael Smorada, of Moweaqua, and the following brother and sisters: Michael of Jacksonville, Mrs. Herrick and Pauline Smorada of Moweaqua. She was a member of the Catholic church.

The body was taken to Moran's to be prepared for burial. It will be taken later to Moweaqua, and then to Pana where the funeral will be held in the Catholic church, probably Friday.

The funeral of Edward Finson will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the residence, one mile east of Niantic. The burial will be in Fairlawn cemetery.

KAYSER GRATEFUL FOR VOTE GIVEN

Hope He Is Assigned Street Department.

"I am, of course, greatly pleased with the very large vote that I received and would like to be able to express my appreciation of the many courtesies extended to me through the campaign," said Philip Kayser, the commissioner-elect, who led the entire commissioner ticket in the election Tuesday.

"Especially do I feel grateful to my many old associates in the Decatur Bridge company for their interest and help in the election. I expect to give my best interest to the work of the department, which will be assigned to me. I hope that it will be the streets."

St. Peters Sewing Circle.

The Sewing Circle of St. Peter's A. M. E. church will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. Jessie Flaughter, 245 East Marion street.

CHILDREN FIGHT FOR EXAMINATION

Miss Thornhill Tells of Experience.

LOOKING AT TEETH

Making Government Survey in Decatur.

"Here, I'm going to get into that chair next." "No you are not, I am." Biff! Bang! A pair of black eyes resulted.

This took place, not in Decatur, but in another city where Miss Verna Thornhill, government representative was examining and cleaning up the mouths of the children. She hardly knew the discussion was going on in the neighborhood of a chair where she was at work on another child before one of the boys received the pair of black eyes for him, or the other fellow, too earnest desire to get the benefit of the work on his teeth.

AFRAID AT FIRST.

The interesting part of this is the fact that it occurred in a school where at first, the children were afraid of Miss Thornhill because they did not know what she might be going to do to them, but a little demonstration showed them that it was benefit they would receive.

Miss Thornhill was at work in the E. A. Gastman school, Wednesday morning where she has set up a temporary laboratory. The intention was at first to begin in the Durfee school but this plan was changed at the last minute and work began in the E. A. Gastman school where it will continue for the balance of the week. Where she goes from Gastman remains to be decided upon.

THOROUGH EXAMINATION.

"What about the tooth brush now boys? How often do you use it? Every Christmas and New Years. How would you like to have them all cleaned up? You have a nice set of teeth if they were just cleaned."

This is just a part of the conversation with one boy while she examined the condition of his teeth and mouth. She watches not only for cavities, but for the condition of the soft tissue in the mouth to see that it is clean and that a. She finds many cases of gingivitis diseased or inflamed gums, a condition that is easily cleared up by the right kind of care.

ALL ENTHUSIASTIC.

"The teeth of the children I have examined so far are in better condition than usual," she said Wednesday morning. "The only trouble I have after the children get use to me, is trouble to keep them out of the chair for they become so enthusiastic about it that they all want work done. She told one little girl who was reduced to have a bad tooth taken out she returned at noon with a little friend who also wanted a tooth out and at recess time with another Miss Thornhill had to make her understand that her enthusiasm was running a little bit wild.

"The campaign," she said, "is to clean up the main gate way of the body, and to help it do its work. To tell the people that a dental clinic does not mean misery for children, and blood running all over the place. If I only took the fear of the dentist out of the minds of the children, I think it would pay the government for what it is doing in sending us over the country for this purpose."

IN MOUNTAINS.

She told how she had been sent into the mountains of the south where the children called her "the health lady" and where parents, at first violently opposed to the work on the mouths of the children begged the workers to stay for days that every child might have some help.

"I never decide a child if I am going to hurt I say so and as a result they are brave when it hurts which is seldom."

AT WALTER REED.

Miss Thornhill was four years with the Walter Reed hospital in Washington where she was helping to care for the boys of the army who have returned from France before she went into public health work for the government. She has had a part in conducting the campaign in twelve states and has been to every state in the south except Texas and Alabama.

One of the aims of the work, perhaps the big outstanding things is to show that the child that is defective in any way is not able to keep up in the school work as he or she should do. To this end after every mouth examination the child is weighed and measured, the age is taken and the grade in which the pupil is at work at the present time.

Tuesday an interesting health story as told to the boys and girls of the grades 1, 2, and 3, and the children in the older grades were given a short talk on mouth health by Miss Thornhill.
